Ault, Clark take to new heights

By MARK LESLIE

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — "The best three golf courses I have ever designed." That is how Tom Clark describes three new tracks from the palette of Ault, Clark & Associates — LedgeStone Golf Course at Stonebridge Village in Branson, Mo., Diamante Golf Course in Hot Springs, Ark., and The Woods Course at Kingsmill on the James here.

"We're getting better and better sites, plus well-budgeted projects, good property and good contractors," said Clark, adding that with increased sodding, new courses are better from Day One.

The home of entertainer Kenny Rogers, LedgeStone was expected to open nine holes on Oct. 1 and the other nine the first of November.

Playing off Rogers' movies and songs, Clark has nicknamed holes Gambler's Revenge, Sidewinder, Straight Shooter, Deception, Ruby, Ambush — you get the picture.

In the heart of the Ozarks, Clark called it a "true mountain golf course

That hole, the 15th, is a 177-yard downhill par-3 that falls about 100 feet and required blasting the side of the mountain to create the green and a lake. The green is built on a rock shelf. Rogers' mountaintop home sits just to the right of the hole.

Q & A Doak: A designer of the ages

It almost sounds as if Tom Doak's interest in golf course design were pre-natal. Exposed, at an early age, to golf on business trips with his father, he went on to study landscape architecture at Cornell University, travel the United Kingdom under a fellowship to study course design, and write on design for Golf Magazine and his own book, "The Anatomy of a Golf Course." He worked under Pete Dye — then briefly for Perry Dye — before going out on his own and designing a half-dozen golf courses, among them High Pointe in Traverse City, Mich.

Golf Course News: Tell us about your organization.

Tom Doak: Bruce Hepner is my number two designer, and Jim Urbina, my shaper out of Denver and worked for the Dyes for awhile. Both are invaluable as we start getting bigger and get more commitments in advance. Not knowing exactly when they will happen, I can't promise I'll be on every course every day. These guys understand and we're a real good team because we're not afraid to get down in the dirt a little bit and we have a lot of construction expertise among the three of us.

GCN: You've studied a lot of courses in the UK. But you must have special memories of caddying for a couple of months at the
