

FMC introduces Sultan Bermuda

Farmers Marketing Corp. has released Sultan, a new seed propagated bermudagrass variety. Developed for fine turf applications, Sultan will be marketed as a fairway quality Bermudagrass.

Sultan is one of the highest ranking seeded entries in the National Turfgrass Evaluation Program Bermudagrass Trials. It exhibits significantly denser turf and shorter growing height than NuMex Sahara with moderate cold tolerance. Sahara was the first improved seeded Bermudagrass developed exclusively for turf. Like Sahara, Sultan was developed by Dr. Arden Baltensperger, emeritus professor, New Mexico State University and director of turfgrass research, Farmers Marketing.

Limited amounts of certified seed will be available in 1995. For more information, contact Farmers Marketing at 1-800-872-4272.

National offers deluxe 68" model

National Mower has introduced a new, deluxe model of its popular 68" riding reel-type mower. The new unit is priced at just $4,500, allowing professional grooming and trimming all in one compact mower.

The Deluxe 68" includes electric ignition and gauges. It has been engineered to provide a 7 mph transport speed, allowing it to groom half an acre in approximately 15 minutes. Golf course superintendents have been especially pleased with the model's ability to groom and trim with a single machine. The 68" is also maneuverable — with the side wings up, the mowers fits through 38-inch gates.

Lofts unveils Salty alkaligrass

BOUND BROOK, N.J. — Lofts Seed has announced the availability of a new alkaligrass which was developed by Dr. Virginia Lehman. This new variety, Salty, performs extremely well under high salt and/or alkaline soil conditions.

Salty is a slow-growing, cool-season, perennial turfgrass with a fine-leaved texture which can be mixed with other fine-textured grasses. Normally cut to a 1- to 3-inch height, it can also be left unmown, growing to a height of approximately 16 inches, creating a very attractive natural-looking, low-maintenance turf.

Salty Alkaligrass is suitable for use in full sun at shore areas; along roadways and sidewalks where winter salt damage is likely; or on golf course fairways; and any general turf area with high salt and/or alkaline soil conditions. Salty can also be used for winter overseeding of dormant bermudagrass where soil conditions dictate the use of an alkaligrass. For more information, contact Lofts at 908-560-1590.
