Too good to be true? Golfplan will design 18 holes here at the Sparrebosch Clifftop Estate and Country Club in Knysna, South Africa.

South African property an eye-lifter for Fream

KNYSNA, South Africa — Working a site that is "nearly too good to be true," Golfplan has been retained to design 18 holes here at the Sparrebosch Clifftop Estate and Country Club, a US$100 million residential resort development situated on spectacular headlands overlooking the Indian Ocean.

Groundbreaking is scheduled for March 1 and the course will be the southernmost on the African continent when it opens with a planned New Year's Eve 1999 celebration. This will provide Golfplan a unique bookend, as the Santa Rosa, California-based firm also designed the continent's northernmost course: the 27-hole Golf de Tabarka Resort in the Tunisian port city of Tabarka.

"When we opened Tabarka in 1992, people called it the Cypress Point of the Mediterranean," said Ron Fream, Golfplan founder and principal. "So it's fitting that our first South African project will be Sparrebosch, because the site couldn't be more suggestive of Pebble Beach."

Developed by PK Developments Ltd. of Bangkok and Cape Town, the Sparrebosch project will feature a 150-room hotel and more than 400 holiday/

Golf Course News: How did you and Bob Graves team up?

Damian Pascuzzo: I was getting out of college and looking for a job. So I called him up and he was gracious enough to invite me to come talk with him. What I thought would be an hour interview turned out to virtually be all day. We talked about golf for a third of the day, jazz for a third and aviation for a third. It was evident we got along beautifully, but he just didn't have any openings at the time.

Bob called me about a year later, said he had an opening and asked if I was still interested. I said, 'How about Monday morning?' We've
