who ride their bikes to and from work. Some jog their courses early in the morning, which has the added benefit of giving them a hole-by-hole view of what's going on out there. It's a good start.

And that's another reason I'm looking forward to the national meeting in San Diego—running. I'm sure I'll see, and maybe join up with, groups of joggers taking advantage of that city's great climate and miles of running paths. I encourage the powers that be in our business to start moving, too, coming up with initiatives and other ways to get all of us, regardless of age, better educated and more dedicated to taking care of ourselves.

We lost too many good friends and fellows in 2012. Let's see if we can keep not only our golf courses but ourselves healthy in the future. GCI
