Little Child Shall Lead Them To Know Golf Rules

ANY EFFORTS have been made to promote observation of the rules of the game but slow progress is being made. Probably the greatest impetus has been given to rules education by the interest women have taken in the game during the last few years. It is the opinion of GOLFDOM's observers that the average woman golfer is much better acquainted with the rules than is the average man golfer, but even the women have a long distance to go despite their frequent reference to the rules in settling their spirited debates.

In advancing rules education an idea that comes from the Hanover (N. H.) C.C. is well worthy of wide use. At Hanover, so A. J. Scarlett, jr., green-chairman, advises, the caddies are given a periodical examination. The examination questions are personalized as far as possible so the kids get the right slant on how important it is for them to observe the rules. Although a number of the questions are of local interest, the Hanover examination questions which follow are good examples of a test for the youngsters.

The system of grading deducts two points for every question answered incorrectly, and one point is deducted for each question unanswered. The result is multiplied by two to put the markings on a percent basis. The best caddie at Hanover made three mistakes. This gave him a grading of 88 per cent. The committee, being of a mind that this result was practically perfect, raised all grades 10 per cent. Boys having grades of lower than 50 per cent are considered unsuitable as caddies. Only two out of the 40 boys answering the examination were not fitted.

With the P. G. A. tournament bureau ruling out the traveling caddies the matter of caddy training in the rules has been emphasized. There have been several cases during the last two years where infractions of the rules by unknowing caddies has threatened a substantial prize money difference to the players for whom the boys were working.

To show that a good caddy's job means more than carrying a bag and watching a ball, we suggest that many of the members of any club try to answer questions of general application among the following list of Hanover queries:

At Meridian Hills C. C. (Indianapolis distr.) a concrete walk in the center of the parking space and leading to a clubhouse door. is a thoughtful handling of a perplexing problem. Especially on rainy party nights the golf club automobile parking stands out as one of the sore spots of most plants. The Meridian Hills installation suggests that elevated concrete walks, possibly with posts for canvas canopies during rains, might be laid out in a manner that would make parking far more convenient.

Tulsa Club Stages Tourney to Aid Local Charity

HERE IS THE way Oakhurst C. C., Tulsa, Okla., responded to the appeal by President H. H. Ramsay of the U. S. G. A., that golf do its part in helping relieve the unemployment situation.

Oakhurst held a tournament on Nov. 6, 7 and 8 for the benefit of the unemployed.

A committee, appointed to solicit prizes from Tulsa merchants, secured nearly $400 worth of trophies. A general letter was sent to 20 clubs within 100 miles of Tulsa, inviting all amateur golfers in the Southwest to participate. Sixty-five women and 194 men responded, women paying an entry fee of $1.00, men paying $1.50. The first day of the three-day tournament was devoted to the women's event, the second two days being turned over to the masculine mashie wielders.

Total receipts, amounting to $324.60, were turned over to Oakhurst's treasurer and will be donated, upon authorization by the board of governors, to one of the local Tulsa charities.

William Brown, Oakhurst pro, handled details of the tournament.

ONE ADVANTAGE of commercial fertilizers over stable manure is that they may be applied to any part of a golf course and the players can continue to use the fertilized turf.
