Firing Is Under Way In Dawson Ringer Tournament

PLAY in the Peter Dawson 1942 National Ringer Golf Tournament got under way July 1 in nearly 300 of the nation's leading golf clubs, with approximately 90,000 golfers participating. Last year the Glen Oaks Club, Farmington, Mich., with a score of 42, nosed out the Overlook CC, of Lancaster, Pa., thereby winning the 300 ounce Dawson Trophy.

128 holes-in-one were made during the two months of play last year, which confirmed the estimated odds of the Broadway price maker, Jack Doyle, of 20,000 to 1. At the termination of play last year, it was figured that over 200,000,000 golf shots were fired during the two months of tournament competition.

Bob Jones tried out the new Spalding War-Flite reprocessed ball during the Hale America tourney at Ridgemoor. He wanted to find out what sort of ammunition the war-time golfer is going to get. After the round he expressed himself as satisfied that the average golfer would notice little, if any, difference. Looking over the new War-Flites are Jones, left, and L. E. Coleman, Spalding vice-pres.

In order to keep the War-Flites flying, Spalding urges all golfers to turn in all the old balls that they can find. They can get War Savings Stamps in exchange for them.

WHAT'S NEW

John H. Vestal Co., 703 S. La Salle St., Chicago, specialists in golf club printing, announces its new low-price one-color scorecard, the War Baby scorecard, is now available to clubs desirous of materially reducing their card costs. The new War Baby card does not list yardages, handicap numbers, or name of course, but simply provides spaces for keeping score by holes, names of players, won-lost total, date, scorer, score totals, etc. The new cards are priced at $1.60 per thousand if ordered in five thousand lots, and $1.75 per thousand for amounts of less than 5,000.

L. Ert Slack, one of the Indiana Seniors amateurs whose putting for years has been envied by many pro and amateur tournament stars, has put into a booklet his ideas on putting. The booklet is being sold at pro-shops and book stores for $1.

Slack's putting technique is not hard to learn. It has produced excellent results for the majority of those who have adopted it.

A crab grass eliminator consisting of an adjustable attachment of wire fingers that lift up crab grass so mower blades can cut it, is being made by Lawrence E. Bangert, 86-06 117th st., Richmond Hill, New York, N. Y. The device has been pronounced "very satisfactory" by several course supts. and park depts.
