

A black and white photograph of a golf ball on a grassy surface. A white rectangular sign is placed over the ball, tilted slightly to the right. The sign has the word "Scott's" in a large, cursive font at the top. Below it, in a smaller, sans-serif font, is the text: "will cooperate with your club to help safeguard your greens and fairways from expensive deterioration. Write for tips on practical, economical methods—no obligation." At the bottom of the sign, in a bold, sans-serif font, is: "O. M. SCOTT & SONS COMPANY Marysville, Ohio".

Scott's

will cooperate with your club to help safeguard your greens and fairways from expensive deterioration. Write for tips on practical, economical methods—no obligation.

O. M. SCOTT & SONS COMPANY
Marysville, Ohio

The drawing on this month's cover urges a policy all golfers should adopt this season. Caddies ARE smaller; their burdens MUST be eased.

Carry this message to your members. Order reprints of the drawing from GOLFDOM at $1.25 per 100, postpaid. Use them in club mailings, place them in your members' lockers. Give the caddies a break this year!

THE CLEARING HOUSE

Golf Books bought and sold. All magazines, articles and rarities on golf wanted. Libraries bought. Now in preparation, the world's first bibliography of golf with 2500 listings. Golf Book Service, 42-05 Layton St., Elmhurst, New York.

Wanted—Used golf course equipment. Send list, with prices, of items you have for sale. A. S. Hansen, (Phone: Central 1444), 135 S. La Salle St., Chicago.

Wanted—Couple to run small country club in Northeastern Colorado. Living quarters, light, fuel and equipment furnished. Catering and other concessions in addition to salary. Send details of past experience, salary expected, etc. Address: Ad 504 % Golfdom.

For years it has been a growing conviction with me that the average American businessman has not been sufficiently informed of the value of physical fitness. and this fact constitutes a decided weakness in our national morale. In time of peace this weakness is submerged, but now that we are at war, it appears a real menace to our national safety. The older business executives upon whom we depend for national leadership are especially neglectful of their health.

It therefore becomes the duty of all of us who help carry the responsibility for the physical education of our youth and business men to do all within our power to cultivate a real understanding and appreciation of good health and physical well being. There is nothing which so completely controls our thinking personality and productive ability as physical fitness. It's not enough for you and me to know that golf is the answer to a more healthful and enjoyable life; it's our patriotic duty to sell its value enthusiastically to those who need it most. Through depression and prosperity, in war and in peace, golf faithfully serves the health and morale of America.—George Aulbach in "Golf Marches On."

Hagen and Jones Still Star with British

FRED CORCORAN, formerly tournament bureau mgr. for the PGA, now is with the Red Cross in England conducting sports entertainment for American soldiers and sailors. Fred says the Hagen and Jones sagas still are being embellished by stories he hears from British golfers.

Fred advises that the Red Cross has golf nets at five of its clubs in England. All of the leading English clubs invite American men in uniform to play free, but the big problem is getting balls and Fred would appreciate any supply he could get from fellows on this side. His address is APO 887, ARC, care Postmaster, New York City.

One of the sports entertainment stunts Fred is conducting at camps is a sports quiz. If you have any sports questions that might interest the lads, send them to Fred, together with the answers so he won't have to dig up the answers from

Golfdom