BALANCED GOLF BAG OFFERS
ALL-PURPOSE
HOOD

Already a decided success because of its unusual features, Lightweight Balanced Golf Bag is now available to golfers as the only lightweight bag with a hood. The hood itself is unique because in addition to providing protection for the club heads it can also be used as a bag for practice balls, shoes, clothing, etc. Made of the same heavy duck as the bag, the new hood slips over and protects the club heads. When the nylon drawstring is tightened, the clubs are securely held, cannot rattle or fall out of the bag. When not in use, the hood folds into a small square to occupy little space in the bag pocket. With this new development, Lightweight Balanced Golf Bag adds to its strong sales appeal.

WITH BETTER COLOR"

Says GENE ERATH,
Greenkeeper,

"I compared Agrico alongside an all-organic fertilizer, and the Agrico-fed grass was thicker and had a better color," writes Mr. Erath. "What's more, the color held up all season where Agrico was used, and members commented on its better appearance. In 20 years' experience, Agrico is the best fertilizer I've ever used." Agrico is specially made to feed golf-course turf and feed it right. Order now from your regular supplier, phone nearest A.A.C.
