Bermuda Golf Course Reopens

Reopening of the eighteen-hole Riddell's Bay G&CC course in the Warwick section of Bermuda highlights the preparations being made to provide ample sports facilities for the winter influx of visitors. Golf has long been one of the Colony's foremost outdoor sports and has been an important attraction for vacationists throughout the year.

Other well-known courses on which annual golf tournaments attracting star players from all over the world will be featured as they were before the war include the famous Mid-Ocean course in the Tucker's Town Section, the popular Belmont Manor and GC under the supervision of Canadian professional Harold Wells, and the St. George Hotel course in the eastern part of the islands.

passing position this year when his Bay-side High team was compelled to match strokes in the deciding match for the PSAL title with Flushing. The Red Devils were coached by Tom's wife, Eleanor, a health education teacher at Flushing and an avid divot digger. Eleanor saw her No. 1 man, Bill Pianki, win, but the four other lads went down as the Commodores bagged the title with an unsullied record.

"Within a few years, these youngsters will be holding down responsible positions in the business world and will be casting about for a private club to join," observed Mullin. "They get invaluable training in the schools and experience playing in the PSAL and Queens Interscholastic championship. We feel that we are helping the game grow the way it should—from the schools up."

If such strides can be made in the greatest metropolis of them all, papers and schools of smaller cities and communities can get together to put on similar tournaments—for the good of the sport and themselves.
