FRED J. BOWMAN ELECTED PRES.,
WILSON SPORTING GOODS CO.

Fred J. Bowman, vp of Wilson Sporting Goods Co. for the past 16 years, and a member of the Wilson board of directors, has been elected president of the company, succeeding the late L. B. Icely.

Bowman, 55, has been with the Wilson sports organization for 30 years. For 14 years he was with the distributing part of the company and for the past 16 years has been in the manufacturing and merchandising operations. He was born in Kansas City and was educated in Kansas City public schools. He was prominent as a high school athlete and was twice captain of the Westport high school basketball team. He was a member of the first pro football team in Kansas City.

Bowman started work with Johns Manville Co. and had that employment interrupted by service on the Mexican border with the Missouri National Guard and by World War I. He served overseas with Battery D, 129th Field Artillery as a top sergeant under Capt. Harry S. Truman. After the armistice he was active in sports overseas until he was shipped back.

In 1920 Bowman went with Lowe and Campbell. He became treasurer and in 1934 was transferred to Chicago as vp of the L & C division of Wilson. For the past 10 years Bowman has been in charge of Wilson's manufacturing at its 15 factories.

For 11 years Bowman served as sec., Athletic Goods Mfgs. Assn. and now is serving his second term as president of that organization. He has served seven years as sec., Golf Club Mfgs. Assn. During World War II he was active on the advisory committee of the athletic goods division of the War Production Board.

Bowman is a director of Sunset Ridge CC (Chicago dist.) of which he was president in 1940. He is a director of the Western Golf Assn.

POWER MACHINE SPEEDS SOD CUTTING

In the Ryan Power Sod Cutter, made by K & N Machine Works, 871 Edgerton St., St. Paul, Minn., golf course superintendents will find welcome speed, accuracy and savings in their sod work. A 4 H.P. Wisconsin engine delivers the power that enables one man to cut up to 600 yds. of sod per hour. The blade cutting the sod is placed directly under the traction wheel thus assuring uniform thickness of cut. Thickness of cut from $\frac{1}{4}$ in. to $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. is made by simple adjustment. The high carbon steel blade operates with a shuttle action which keeps it free of roots and cuts the sod smoothly. A shock absorber prevents damage to the machine when striking hidden rocks. Compactness and easy maneuverability of the machine and the high quality of the sod produced are features important in golf turf maintenance. Two models are available—12 in. and 18 in. widths. Complete details from the manufacturers.

LAWN MOWER BUSINESS

As another step forward in their expansion program, David M. Lilly, pres. Toro Mfg. Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., has announced the purchase of Coldwell-Philadelphia Lawn Mower business, oldest name in the mowing machinery field. Manufacturing of the Coldwell line will be in the Milwaukee plant of Whirlwind, Inc., another Toro subsidiary. John O'Neill, formerly Brand Mfg. Co.'s sales manager, will serve in the same capacity with the new unit, under direction of Robt. W. Gibson, Toro's vp and gen. sales manager. Toro's 1950 volume is expected to substantially exceed the $6 million mark.

NEW HEAD MODELS, PUTTERS, NYLON BAGS FEATURE WILSON 1951 LINE

New, improved head models on many different numbers, the addition of two new putters, and the introduction of nylon golf bags in many attractive colors highlighted the innovations in the 1951 golf line at Wilson Sporting Goods Co.'s recent annual sales meeting at Chicago's LaSalle Hotel.

One-hundred-forty sales, merchandising and manufacturing representatives from Wilson's 30 branches and 15 factories heard President Fred Bowman tell the assembled delegates, "Wilson Sporting Goods Co. will maintain its position in the athletic equipment manufacturing field through intensive research, development of new and better products, and large volume manufacturing of quality material."

Wilson will again feature an outstanding Christmas package value this year. The Sam Snead Payoff Putter will be featured in a gift package along with Sam's new book, "How to Hit a Golf Ball," and the two will sell for the price of the putter alone.

In golf Sundries, Wilson is offering two new nylon golf umbrellas with water-resisting qualities; full-fingered, feather-weight, nylon-back Cabretta golf gloves with leather finger tips for longer wear; the new Sure-Lock shoe calk which cannot work loose when applied properly; and a new folding caddie cart with 10-inch wheels equipped with oilite bearings.

Nylon will feature the Wilson golf bag line in 1951 with an attractive range of color choices — mist, grey, cardinal, green, blue and maple. These bright, attractive bags combine both light-weight and long-wearing qualities.

New head models in both The Haig and Jet wood club highlight the Walter Hagen 1951 line. In addition, Custom, Sir Walter and American Lady model woods and irons are being introduced.

retriever named "The Golf Ranger." It was designed and built according to ideas advanced by Eddy Greenwald, for many years operator of one of the busiest golf ranges in the Milwaukee district. The machine is a full view push type with a capacity of 3,600 balls for the 12 ft. model. Angular bars guide the balls into grooved elevator wheels which deposit the balls into sturdy galvanized expanded metal baskets which are easily removed for convenient dumping. Rugged construction details assure long service under continuous use. Articulating wheels raise and lower picking units over uneven terrain. Efficiency, speed, ease of handling and sturdiness of construction are features stressed by the manufacturers. The Golf Ranger is available in models that range in width from 6 ft. to 20 ft. Full particulars from Automatic Parts Co.

ATTENDS ANNUAL MEETING

Sales representatives and company officials of the Kroydon Company at their recent annual sales meeting heard pres. C. L. Gairard state that a gradual tightening up of materials can be expected but that the factory would be able to supply the trade on all holiday and spring orders placed this fall.

The 1951 line will feature new Hy-Test and Hy-Power shafts with different flute placements which have been tested and proven to be superior to Kroydon shafts manufactured in the past. All wood models have had a "face lifting." They will include a compact "box type" model fitted with special medium flax shafts for the better woman golfer—and also a new number five wood, the "Silver Baffy" with a stainless steel face insert. The new muscle back will be compact with heavy top-line and concentrated weight behind the hitting area. The company will also

"THE JACOBSEN STORY" THEME OF 1950 SALES CONFERENCE

Salesmen and company executives attending the Jacobsen Manufacturing Co. sales conference just completed in Racine, Wis.

"The Jacobsen Story"—a complete, book-length presentation covering the history, policy, products and future plans of the Jacobsen organization—was the highlight of the annual sales conference held at the company headquarters in Racine, Wisconsin, August 16-19.

Jacobsen salesmen were welcomed to the four-day conference with an opening address by Mr. O. T. Jacobsen, president, who expressed the hope that the company's extensive plans for 1951 can be followed through on a "business-as-usual" basis.

Of particular interest to the assembled group was the announcement and unveiling of two new power mower models by Jacobsen general sales manager, M. J. "Doc" Walker. Details on both the new rear drive type Jacobsen Manor and the Jacobsen-Worthington Model 25 Rotary Disc mower are now being released to the trade.

GOODWIN, GRIP INVENTOR, VERSATILE GUY

Hoyle T. Goodwin, inventor of the Goodwin flange wrap golf grip, is a former golf pro with a wide range of achievements. Goodwin, a pro for three years, got interested in the grip idea because his hands are tender. In experimental stages of his grip he played 27 holes in 95 strokes at the Hillendale GC, Durham, N.C., where Doc Green is pro.

In addition to the Goodwin flange wrap grip Goodwin invented latches for refrigerators and movable parts on mannequins, a water repellent for use on garments being dry-cleaned, synthetic detergents for dry cleaning and has successfully operated chemical laboratories, beauty salons, restaurants, dry cleaning establishments and a ladies ready-to-wear store. He took time out for service in the Army Air Force during the war.

Goodwin now is with Central States Industrial Supply Corp. and C.S.I. Sales Co. of Cleveland, O., in charge of research. In these enterprises he is associated with Ray E. Britt, ardent golfer who is president of several corporations closely affiliated with the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.
