when that company moved into Elmira.

Shepard's wife is a great teammate for a busy husband. They've been married since 1926 and have a son, Harry, Jr. Like many wives of successful pros, Mrs. Shepard is busy and helpful backstage seeing that details of the pro business are attended to thoroughly.

Prominent in Rotary

One of Shepard's big outside jobs is as a Rotarian. He joined Rotary in 1944 and has had a perfect attendance record. He is past president of the Elmira Heights Rotary club and a Rotary district governor. That calls for visiting each of the 51 Rotary clubs in the district, making 30-minute talks before the clubs and meeting with the Boards and committee chairmen of each club. He must officiate at the 3-day district conference of Rotary, and the one-day annual club assembly. He also attends Rotary international conventions, which take a week's time.

There are 220 Rotary governors in the 89 nations having Rotary clubs and Shepard is the only professional golfer who is among them.

And in golf, besides attending the PGA meetings he is at the N. Y. State Turf Assn. sessions.

Still further, while turning in a prize performance as a home club pro, Harry has found time to be campaign fund chairman for the March of Dimes, and member and chairman of the organization's Executive board, be a founder and a member of the executive committee of the Dr. Anna Stuart Clinic for Handicapped Children, work on the Arnot Ogden hospital drive, and for the past 10 years on the Community Fund drive, and serve as chairman of the Elmira Heights Red Cross.

Also on the Shepard schedule is work as neighborhood commissioner of the Boy Scouts, service as president of a PTA, as a member of the Mayors' Committee for Bus Transportation, and as a member of the directorate of the Arctic League and chairman of its City Investigation committee.

All these jobs Harry Shepard does well. When he was chairman of his Rotary club's Club Service committee it won the top award in its district for performance valuable to the community.

He is an active member of the Elmira Heights Chamber of Commerce, is a Shriner, and belongs to the Elks and the Eagles.

Yes, this is just one man who does all this work for his community, and he is a representative of the golf profession the pros can present as a champion in public service.
