Brunswick, MacGregor Discuss Possibilities of Merger

B. E. Bensinger, pres. of Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., Chicago, and A. G. Koegel, pres. of the MacGregor Sport Products, Inc. of Cincinnati have announced that their respective companies are considering the feasibility of merging the interests of the two companies.

Should the merger go through, MacGregor would be operated as a subsidiary or division of Brunswick thereby retaining intact the MacGregor name and organization. It was pointed out that no definite commitments had been made by either party, but that initial contacts appeared encouraging.

Borden Gets Supts' Endorsements on New Ureaform Product

Borden Co.'s Chemical Div., collecting data on ureaform performance, has been pleasantly surprised by comments of supts. on Borden 38 Ureaform, a new product. In many cases there is a great deal of negative comment when a new product is used, but Louis Verilli, supt. at Ridgeway CC, White Plains, N. Y., Wilbert Waters of Toledo's Inverness and Leo Wedyke, Glen Oaks CC, Farmington, Mich., are said to be highly impressed by Borden 38 performance. They point out the value of the product's long-lasting feeding, the good green growth it gives and its help in eliminating poa annua.

Pros, Lockerroom Attendants
Cast Votes for Spikleen

Lockerroom attendants and pros in particular are singing the praises of the new Spikleen that cleans golf shoes so effortlessly. Having plenty of them around, especially on tees and at clubhouse and lockerroom entrances, cuts down immensely on floors being littered with mud and grime. Spikleen is manufactured by the Spikleen Co., 10 Warren rd., Maplewood, N. J. which calls attention to the fact that Inverness in Toledo, site of this year's Open, had every one of its tees equipped with Spikleen.

Spalding Girls Hostesses At Press Lunch

Girls of Spalding pro advisory staff were hostesses at a press lunch in Chicago's swanky Pump Room, Aug. 7. The staff members at the party were Marilyn Smith, Wiffi Smith, Mary Lena Faulk, Betty Jameson, Peggy Kirk Bell, Kathy Cornelius and Fay Crocker. They served up some fine interviews along with food and drinks. Making debuts in cafe society prior to their afternoon naps were the twinkling little daughters of Peggy Kirk Bell and Kathy Cornelius.

Wives Attend Jacobsen Sales Meeting With Husbands

Wives of salesmen got an idea of how a mower manufacturing company operates when Jacobsen Manufacturing Co., Racine, Wis., invited them to attend the recent annual sales meeting along with their husbands. They were briefed on many different phases of the business and then regally entertained while their bread-winners concentrated on absorbing all the details of the 1957-58 sales and advertising campaign. New models of power mowers were introduced with all emphasis being put on improvements in construction and styling over this year's models.

Charles A. Livesey, sales vp, predicted that the year ahead would be another good one with the industry, as a whole, improving on its unit sales of 3,000,000 in 1956-57.

Gene Littler Pro-Only Models Highlight Spalding Line

Gene Littler woods with Spalding's exclusive Hydroseal impregnation process that protects wood clubs against swelling and cracking and Gene Littler irons with the new fanned-blade design have been introduced into Spalding's enlarged 1958 professional golf line.

The Gene Littler woods of seasoned persimmon are available with deep faced driver and regular fairway woods, stained a brilliant black, or with medium deep faced driver and extra loft fairway woods, finished in a gleaming light-cherry color, both in lengths of 43 or 42 1/2 ins. (The Spalding Hydroseal method of plastic impregnation is said to offer the greatest protection against swelling and water-absorption ever achieved in a wood club. It will be a part of all Registered Spalding woods in 1958).

In the new Littler irons, the blades are fanned to increase accuracy while reducing the chances of "hoseling" approach shots.

The increased length of the face scoring in the hitting area greatly adds to playing pleasure. The beveled top line has been thinned, the back-stamping improved and streamlined and the new, exclusive Spalding-specified "Pro-Fit" True Temper shafts are reverse-threaded into the gleaming clubheads. There are no pins to work loose as in ordinary irons.

U. S. Rubber Packages Gift Balls in Ice Tray

A plastic ice tray that can make ice balls looking exactly like golf balls — that's the unique Christmas package for golf balls being offered this year by United States Rubber Co.

The ice tray Christmas package for the U. S. Royal line — Specials, Royal Blues, Royal Seniors and Queen Royals will be sold through pro shops at no extra charge. It comes in two sizes — to hold either a doz. or a half doz. golf balls.

The plastic ice tray, with individual dimpled molds duplicating a U. S. golf ball, is unbreakable, tasteless and odorless. It is soft green in color.

Every tray contains simple, easy-to-follow instructions on how to make ice balls for drinks in the home, at the club or for big parties. It also provides housewives and party givers with a novel frozen dessert mold.

Each package has a gay Christmas card on top to personalize the golf ball gift.

U. S. Rubber is providing the golf pro with a special display card, as an attention getter at the club, which will hold both the dozen and half dozen tray and give details about the Christmas gift packages. The company also is offering for Christmas giving its red indoor putting device that holds a dozen golf balls and its gold plastic box with a dozen U. S. Queen Royals.

Scotty Gets "This Is Your Life" Sendoff from Toro Associates

Clan McLaren gathers around Scotty as he accepts gifts, reads messages from friends throughout the country. Mrs. McLaren is at left. They are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this year.

Scotty McLaren, one of America's most familiar figures on the nation's golf greens, got "champion" recognition from his associates at the Toro Manufacturing Corp. recently in Minneapolis.

The tribute, a home-made but affectionate "This Is Your Life" production, showered memories on the dean of greens-cutting equipment in this country. He is retiring after 43 years with Toro. The program was presented before home office executives and a convention of the company's distributor organization.

Among those who had nostalgic messages for Scotty were Byron Nelson, representing pro golfers, Paul Weiss, pres. of the GCSA and Joe Mayo, formerly supt. of the Pebble Beach (Calif.) CC.

A native of Scotland, McLaren, brought his skill as a mechanic to the original Toro Motor Co., which soon became a prime supplier of tractors and gang mowers to golf courses and parks. In the intervening years he has helped plan and maintain many of the leading U. S. courses.

At his side, during the tribute, was his wife. They are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this year.

Under the direction of D. W. Lilly, Toro's pres., the company arranged for friends and relatives from Calif., Tex., Mass., and Pa. to "drop in" on Scotty. These included his brother Stewart of Montreal, his children, Peter from Dallas, Ella of Texarkana, Tex., and Margie of Augusta, Ga., and their families. Also present was William Forbes of San Leandro, Calif., who came to this country in 1905 with Scotty.

McLaren is a charter member of both the GCSA and the Minn. branch, and of the Clan McDonald of the Royal Order of Scottish Clans.
