PGA Educational Sessions

tions asked him by spectators at his exhibitions disclose a startling lack of understanding of terms frequently used by professionals when they are teaching.

Such terms as "stay with the shot," "stay down to the ball," "delayed hit," "open" and "shut" with reference to position of clubface, "cocking of the wrists (and uncocking)," and numerous others are foggy to many more golfers than professionals may be inclined to realize.

Hahn says the ordinary golfer hesitates to admit ignorance of terms a pro may use so casually. The pro may be disturbed about the difficulty in getting the lesson across. The failure of pupil and pro to connect through mutually understandable terms suggests that a lot more attention be given to the semantics of golf instruction, semantics being the study of the meaning of words.

He made a number of revisions in the script of his trick shot, demonstration and clinic program. Hahn told pros at Long Beach that research has convinced him there are at least 50 words or phrases commonly used in golf instruction that are foggy to many pupils.

Other instruction and merchandising speeches heard at the PGA meeting will appear in February GOLFDOM.
