

CHOPPED SHREDDED Versus LONG RUNNER STOLONS

We prefer chopped stolons rather than long runner stolons, although both are obtainable from us, for the following reasons:

1. You get more nodes per bushel.
2. Easier to spread while planting.
3. More even distribution.
4. A bushel will plant 100 square feet or more of area.
5. Saves 50% on topdressing. One cubic yard will cover a green of 5000 square feet. It takes two cubic yards with long stolons.
6. Does not need to be torn apart.
7. Stolons lay flatter on the ground.
8. Less chance for stolons to blow away while roots are anchoring.
9. Quicker maturity. A green is playable in seven or eight weeks.
10. No need of fuss with heavy steel mats.

PGA To Name Five As Tournament Sponsor Advisors

PGA Pres. Harold Sargent in a letter to Roger Hagel, Phoenix, Ariz., pres., International Golf Sponsors Assn., advised that the PGA would name a five-man advisory committee of tournament sponsors. The committee is to meet periodically with the entire membership of the PGA Tournament Committee to discuss policy, contracts and schedules.

The International Golf Sponsors Assn. had protested what they claimed was "taxation without representation" in financing and conducting tournaments and financing the PGA tournament bureau. The IGSA had asked for the formation of a 9-man policy board to include three members of the IGSA.

The PGA, under the proposed arrangement, is to appoint the members of the committee of sponsors.

Hagel has not indicated whether the PGA appointments rather than those of IGSA will be acceptable to the IGSA.

R.I. Field Day Set

The 27th annual turfgrass field day sponsored by Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Rhode Island, will be held in Kingston, Sept. 11-12. On the 11th, following registration, supts. will get reports on research, get a chance to inspect the Station's equipment and visit turf plots. Highlight of the day will be an old fashioned New England clambake, held in nearby Wakefield. On the 12th, a second visit will be made to the turf plots. Arrangements also are being made for the supts. to play golf.

Lodging accommodations won't be available at the University this year as school will be in session. A list of available places in Kingston can be obtained by writing J. A. DeFrance at the Station.

Corcoran Directs LPGA

Fred Corcoran has been named business mgr. for the Ladies PGA. He heads a newly formed service bureau that has its headquarters in the Savoy Hotel, New York City. Corcoran, tournament dir. for the International Golf Assn., was mgr. of the LPGA from 1948, when it was in its beginning stages, until 1953. He also served in a similar capacity with the men's PGA for 15 years. Corcoran succeeds J. Edwin Carter, chief of the PGA tournament bureau, who had a temporary contract with the women's organization.
