all the equipment in A-1 condition. He shouldn't be criticized because, under the circumstances, he undoubtedly is doing a good job. What the club that employs him should do," Hunter concludes, "is weigh the cost of hiring a regular or part-time mechanic against what it costs to go along under the present setup."

Hogan Expands Bag Line

Increased demand is resulting in the expansion of the Ben Hogan golf bag line for 1962. It now offers 11 models, including bags for women and Juniors, plus a selection of carryalls and shag bags. Burton Mfg. Co., Jasper, Ala., is manufacturing the bags to the design of Ben Hogan. The new styles offer an unbroken line in design that has been developed by innovative brace fastenings. This construction removes the stay and stay cover from the outside to the inside of the bag. Models are available in kangaroo, cowhide and steerhide with matching accessory bags as well as in nylon and washable vinyl-coated cotton duck.

Tru-Swing is Latest of Indoor Practice Devices

Recently introduced is Oscar's Tru-Swing practice system which, according to Automation Development, Inc., Union, N. J., enables the player to get in his practice cuts in half the floor space of the average living room. With the set are 24 "looping practice" balls that go straight, hook or fade, depending on how they are hit, a practice tee that fits in a dresser drawer, and a 16-page trainer booklet, written by Claude Harmon, Winged Foot pro. Information about the practice set can be obtained by writing to Automation Development.

Three Victor Recreation Units Become Autonomous Divisions

Victor Comptometer Corp., Chicago has established four autonomous divisions, three in recreation products, to handle its activities outside the business machine field. Worthington

Schaffner

Meyer

Smith

Golf Ball Co., Elyria, O., is headed by Robert F. Smith. This firm produces more than 1,000,000 doz. balls a year. It formerly was a Comptometer div., being acquired in 1960. Smith has been with Worthington since 1945 and has headed its operations since 1958. William D. Schaffner is pres. of Burke Golf Equipment Co., Newark, O., a former Comptometer div., which was acquired in 1959. It manufactures a complete line of clubs and markets other equipment and has exclusive rights to the National PGA label. Victor Electric-Car Co., Chicago, is headed by Henry C. Meyer. The div. was founded by Victor in 1953 to produce golf cars and is one of the four largest in the field. Meyer joined the division in 1958 and formerly was sales mgr.

of floor space is in full production. The office area, with 6,000 sq. ft., also is housed in the new building. A separate 4,000 sq. ft. research and test structure is being completed. Present plans call for expanding the main building in 1963 and again in 1965. Among the products being manufactured in the Garland plant are the Weathermatic line of spray heads, rotary turf sprinklers, remote control valves, and accessories, PVC normal and high impact plastic pipe and malleable iron threadless fitting made by the Telsco Fitting Div.

S & R Practice Balls Have Built-in Tees

Practice balls manufactured by Sinclair & Rush, Inc., St. Louis, are molded from Geon vinyl, a product of B. F. Goodrich Chemical Co. Called the Tee-Ball, they have built-in tees of the same material and, according to the manufacturer, feel like the real thing when hit. Flight is short, making it convenient to practice in close quarters. Geon vinyl is soft enough that the tee can be cut away if the golfer wants to use the Tee-Ball to practice iron shots.

U. S. Rubber Enters Club, Bag and Apparel Fields

United States Rubber Co. has established a golf equipment sales dept. to sell through pro shops an exclusive line of top quality U. S. Royal clubs, bags, head covers, gloves, footwear and apparel for both men and women. It also is manufacturing spike-resistant rubber matting and water hose for courses. All the new golf equipment is being sold by the specialty salesman who sells U. S. Royal balls.

The U. S. Royal clubs include woods, irons, utility clubs and putters, according to John W. Sproul, sales mgr., who announced the new lines. Woods, irons and utility clubs for women are being sold under the U. S. Queen Royal name. All clubs are said to be built to exacting specifications.

Golf bags are made of Premiere expanded Naugahyde (for men) and come in various colors, weights and sizes. For women, the bags are made of Scimitar elastic Naugahyde.

Head covers are fabricated of waterproof, washable Doe-Lon, and the finest featherweight Cabretta leathers are used in the U.S.R. golf gloves. The apparel line includes nylon jackets, trousers and a pullover for men as well as a variety of waterproof vinyl jackets and trousers. Women's apparel also is available in nylon and waterproof vinyl. Footwear for men includes the spiked Booster shoe and the lightweight Pak-A-Way rubber with cleats.

The spike-resistant rubber matting, for shops, lockerrooms, corridors, etc., comes in black or green. The golf course hose, called the U. S. Royal Cord, is made by an exclusive U.S.R. process that is said to assure long life and easy handling.

Eastern Metal Producing Golf Course Signs

Signs and equipment that are said to dress up the course are being produced and marketed by Eastern Metal of Elmira, Inc., Elmira, N. Y.

They are being sold under the label, CourseMaster®, and include tee signs and flags. The tee signs, called Graphic-T, outline the hole and include par and yardage information. Glo-Colored flags are vinyl coated for longer life and fluorescent red or yellow backgrounds make them readily visible. Other CourseMaster® products include fairway guide, traffic control and custom club name signs. Complete information can be obtained by writing Eastern Metal, which has been manufacturing traffic and safety signs for 15 years.

Heritage Develops Gear Driven Measuring Wheel

A measuring wheel with direct gear driven meter of all aluminum construction is being produced by Heritage Products Inc., PO Box B, Kohler, Wis. Called the Foot-Pacer, it comes in Model A, which measures to 300 ft. without being re-set, and Model B that goes to 1,200 ft. The meter can be re-set in seconds, requiring no re-winding. The wheel is completely non-corrosive and is thoroughly cleaned by rinsing under a faucet. The Foot-Pacer is skid proof and doesn't skip on ice or hard ground.

MacGregor Signs Jack Nicklaus for Its Advisory Staff

Jack Nicklaus, possibly the most widely discussed amateur who ever played golf and a pro since early last Nov., recently signed a contract with the Brunswick Corp. to serve as a MacGregor golf div. staff member. Jack's record in the last three or four years is familiar to just about everyone interested in golf. He has two USGA Amateur titles to his credit, won the 1961 National Intercollegiate Championship, and actually had fewer strokes in the combined 1960 and 1961 Opens than any other player although he had to settle for the runnerup spot the former year and for a fourth-place tie last year. He also fared well in the last two Masters and probably reached the height of his young career in the World Amateur at Merion in 1960 when he shot a sensational 269. Nicklaus learned a good deal about golf from Jack Grout, former pro at Scioto in Columbus, O., who started tutoring him at the age of 11. Young Nicklaus attended Ohio State U. where he majored in insurance and has a thriving insurance business in and around Columbus. He launched his pro career in Jan. in the Los Angeles Open and squeezed into the money, but did better at San Diego and in the Crosby.

for Repairing Ball Marks

Mark-A-Way, a device for repairing ball marks, is being marketed by Mar-Al-Products Co., 1317 Nelson Way, Sunnyvale, Calif. Operated from a standing position, it is 40-ins. high and its two lever-operated forks lift ball marks by pressing them against a flat metal plate. Prototype models of Mark-A-Way have been used successfully on two Calif. courses for four years. The device was invented by Manuel T. Coelho, former supt. at Menlo CC, Redwood City, Calif., who was in the golf business from 1920 until 1954. Mark-A-Way is designed for the maintenance dept. but a smaller, lighter model is being planned for golfers.

Ford Claims New Cutting Concept for Flail Mower

A "flail mower" that will be made available this spring by Ford Motor Co.'s Tractor & Implement Div. represents a new concept in mowers, according to the manufacturer. In contrast to the scissors action of the sickle bar, to the reel-type whose blades cut against a stationary bar, and to the rotary whose blades move in a horizontal plane, the flail mower has free swinging blades which hang from a rotor parallel to the ground. It is said that this construction virtually eliminates the hazard of objects being thrown beyond the protective shield of the unit.

The flail blades pulverize clippings virtually before they reach the ground. A rear roller accurately controls cut height from a fraction of an inch to four ins. by changing the lineup of the roller and the mower's housing, and by adjusting the top link of the tractor's three-point hitch.

New Pipe Tagging System

Consolidated Pipe Co. of America, Akron 10, O., has adopted a new tagging system that is said to be unique in the plastic pipe industry. All of the company's pipe is being tagged with color-coded cards bearing information on the basic materials from which the pipe has been extruded and describing standards it has been manufactured to meet. Installation instructions appear on the reverse side of the tags.

Promotes Tournament Attendance

Brunswick Sports div. of Brunswick Corp., through sponsorship of The MacGregor Co., has launched a nationwide billboard program to promote attendance at nearly every major 1962 tournament. Colorful 24-sheet posters will be posted well in advance of the events in tournament cities. It is expected that more than 500 billboards will be used to publicize the tournaments.

Western Tool's Par-Pony Has Numerous Uses

Western Tool & Stamping Co., Des Moines, Ia., is introducing the Par-Pony for golf and industrial use. It is a 3-wheel, 2-seat, gas powered vehicle that weighs about 200 lbs. The 4 hp engine has an extra low-tone, high volume muffler and has either an easy-spin recoil or electric starter. Accelerator and brake are located on a single pedal and the low profile pneumatic tires have extra wide rims for easy riding. The Par-Pony can be loaded into a station wagon by one person although there is a hitch on the car for towing. Accessories include sun top, lawn sweeper, utility cart and three gang mowers. Full details can be obtained from Western Tool & Stamping Co.

Sarazen Joins Etonic Staff

Gene Sarazen, whose career spans 40 years in professional golf, recently has been added to the Etonic golf shoe advisory staff. During most of his career, Gene had his golf shoes custom-made in New York or London, but the story goes that a few months ago he tried on a pair of Etonics and was so happy with them that he immediately threw away the addresses of his bootmakers. It is hardly necessary to point out what he will be wearing from now on.

Pre-Engineered for Utility

A pre-engineered, small metal building, manufactured by the Parkesburg Building Div., Parkersburg, W. Va., is said to be ideal as a utility building for golf courses. Skid mounted for portability, it can be used as a field office, gate house or storage shed. Contrasting colors on roof, door and wall panels enhances its beauty. A rooftop ventilator is optional.

"Old Stoney" Marbleizes the Putting Stroke

Marblehead Golf Corp., PO Box 1562, Sarasota, Fla., is marketing a putter with a head crafted from genuine marble and it's said to be making a hit in Florida. Called the "Old Stoney", the putter was devised by Fred Taylor who discovered that the high resiliency of dense grain marble gives a strong, true touch to a golf ball with a minimum of stroke. Leo Grady, pro at De Soto Lakes, near Sarasota, has helped with the design of the putter.

neapolis, features easily removable 11½ in. side-boards that give the vehicle's carry-box a capacity of 15.4 cu ft. The Workmaster is powered by a 10 hp engine and has a 5-gal. fuel tank with electric indicator and outside fill. Other engine features include an extra heavy crankshaft, 3-qt. oil capacity, stellite exhaust valves and seats, twin power magneto ignition, etc. The tiller bar is said to be vibration free. Top speed of the Workmaster is between 7 and 10 mph. Tires are of the low-pressure type and the front end spring suspension makes for easy riding.

MacGregor's Glove Rack

MacGregor's new rack for showing its golf glove package is 15 ins. high and 12 ins. wide and has four "arms" for display purposes. A cellophane window in the individual packages makes it easy for the player to make a choice of colors.
