NEWS OF THE GOLF WORLD IN BRIEF

By HERB GRAFFIS

Clarence Doser became the first Senior to win the Maryland Open when he beat Dick Whetzle and Cos Tiso in a playoff in July after the three had tied at the end of the regulation distance . . . Doser represents the Washingtonian CC in Gaithersburg . . . Indian Hill Club in Winnetka, Ill., has honored its veteran pro, Sam Bernardi, by calling its 36-hole low net tournament, played in late July, the Sam Bernardi Trophy event . . . Mrs. Faye Roseman, widow of the Joseph A., who founded the Roseman Mower Co., died in July in Glenview, Ill. . . . Saratoga Spa's full 18 was put in play in July with the opening of the back nine . . . Tom Creavy is pro at the Saratoga Springs, N. Y. course.

Before turning pro in 1960, Bob Charles, the British Open champion, won the New Zealand Open and twice played with that country's team in the World Amateur . . . Walt Thiel of the Moorestown (N.J.) Field Club, who has the reputation of running one of the best Junior programs in New Jersey, doesn't put the kids through the paces en masse . . . He teaches them through advanced, middle and beginners classes . . . Dean Brown and his son, Randy, who salvage golf balls from lakes on nine San Francisco courses, haul in between 70,000 and 80,000 pellets every year.

Charles Beverage has been named head pro at Dorado Beach GC in Puerto Rico . . . He takes the place of Rusty Gilbert, who has a summer job at Woodstock (Vt.) CC and will continue to teach at Dorado in the winter . . . Mrs. John Allen took a 43 on a Wednesday in a Grinnell, Ia. women's tournament, then repaired to the hospital on Friday and gave birth to 5½ pound boy . . . Sioux City, Iowa's new 18-hole muni course, dedicated in July, is known as Green Valley . . . The city's C of C ran a competition to decide the name and a mail carrier, John A. Pearson, submitted the winning entry . . . He was given a set of clubs for his brainwork.

FRONT COVER

The evening before the entrants in the Western Open, played at Beverly CC in Chicago in July, were to start practising for the tournament, the course was hit by storm that in less than an hour left three inches of rain in its wake. At least three other holes on the back nine were in about the same condition as No. 14 (on cover) the following day. The course was closed for 24 hours while the water abated. Thereafter, Beverly quickly snapped back and before the tournament was over many players said it was the most beautifully conditioned layout they had played on all season. That, indeed, was music to the ears of Supt. Ted Woehrle who had been ready to go over the hill shortly after the storm struck.

Ridgemoor CC, Norwood, Ill., 20 minutes via expressway from Chicago's loop, is observing its 50th anniversary . . . The original location was bought in 1913 for $82,000 . . . The club started with nine holes and expanded as finances permitted . . . Just recently it put $350,000 into clubhouse improvements and construction of a pool . . . Revenue from the first full month of operation (June) of Jacksonville Beach (Fla.) CC was $9,500 . . . About 2,600 rounds were played and on the 29th, 275 golfers were out.

Dallas Athletic Club CC, in handling the PGA Championship, did one of the smoothest and most complete jobs of tournament operation I've seen . . . General Chairman W. L. Todd, Jr. and every man and woman on all the committees, all the club members, who gave up their beautiful and busy club for two weeks, the department heads and their staffs impressed players, spectators and press with their work . . . No sports event would be able to afford services of the extent and character of DACCC members' labors if they had to be bought and paid for . . . Dallas Salesmanship Club, sponsors of the PGA championship as a fund raising operation for a boys' camp, was one of the luckiest breaks the PGA ever had in getting angels for its championships.

DACCC 36-hole club is a magnificent distance from the center of Dallas, even in a country of magnificent distances, but the transportation operation was perfect . . . Women members, smartly attired in white sports outfits and wearing chic straw hats with blue and gold bands, drove a big fleet of courtesy cars . . . One shift of them began at 5:30 a.m., getting early starters to the course . . . Women scorers, wearing the very attractive white costume, standard for the tournament girls, looked refreshingly cool and poised on the course where temperatures were well over 100 and players and male spectators were soaking their shirts and larding the lean earth with sweat and dragging along looking beaten . . . The DACCC Adorables at the PGA gave Dallas more fine golf fashion publicity than even the Neiman-Marcus organization has been able to get.

These Dallas golf girls are very, very soothing to tired eyes . . . They certainly know how to dress for golf and how to keep their complexions from getting burned and weatherbeaten like the saddlebags of a pony express rider . . . Business in Graham Ross' pro shop was rushing . . . Graham and his staff had a large stock of women's apparel conveniently displayed . . . His staff did a great job of shopkeeping in maintaining stock in neat order considering all the pawing it got.

Dick Tarlow of Foot Joy commented that Dallas people have two wise ways of ducking punishing heat in July . . . One is air-conditioning everywhere under roofs and the other is to have on the thermometers only one reading: "It's somewhere around 100."

Big seller in Ross' pro shop at DACCC was a souvenir umbrella that Bud Walz of Haas-Jordan made . . . On the yellow umbrella was printed in blue: "PGA 1963 Championship Dallas Athletic Country Club." . . . Great for protection against the blistering sun out on the course . . . And for a shower just in case . . . Umbrella sold for $5 in the shop . . . Lyne Price, Hogan sales manager, has been selling bales of these umbrellas as invitation tournament souvenirs.

Graham Ross who sold club members on taking the PGA Championship, can relax now that the tournament proved the club is one of the world's top golf set ups . . . Some pros and club officials who got a chance to look at the huge car operation at the DACC wish they had been as wise and foresighted as Ross and his club officials in working out car operation as mutually profitable and satisfactory to the club and pro . . . Without the car operation, the two 18s and the big clubhouse would be very short of business in the heat of July and August . . .

With all due bows to Dallas ACCC members, the Dallas Salesmanship Club members and Texas PGA members for their good management and hospitality, Dallas in July is not the best place for a national golf championship . . . The Dallas heat renewed talk about September being the logical month for the PGA Championship . . . I have a hazy recollection that the 1927 PGA championship, played at Cedar Crest CC, Dallas, was played in September . . . PGA record book does not give the date, the total and first prize

AQUA-GRO

Blended Non-Ionic Organic Wetting Agents

The AQUA-GRO program is designed to maintain a low soil-moisture tension environment. When the tension of water is reduced, there is an increase in the penetration and availability of both water and nutrient solutions. This promotes deep fibrous rooting, denser and healthier turf, with no localized dry spots.

CHECK WILT WITH STOMA-SEAL

STOMA-SEAL is designed to check WILT on greens, tees, fairways, and other turfgrass areas. This new product effectively closes the stomata of the leaf. Vital moisture loss through the stomata by transpiration is reduced.

money or the scores of the semi-final rounds . . . That information and dates and prize money of earlier PGA championships should be put in the records.

Quite a difference in the 1927 and 1963 PGA presentations to the winners . . . In 1927, Walter Hagen won his fourth consecutive PGA title for his total of five . . . The Haig, as usual then, was unconcerned about finances and was the target of parties intent upon discussing book-keeping matters with him. . . So Alex Pirie, then PGA president, gave Walter the Wanamaker trophy, with the Caledonian oratory and courtly performance of the fine old pros . . . Alex gave Walter the check privately in the clubhouse boiler-room . . . Nice Florida subdivision pitcher Lou Strong, PGA president, made on TV in hailing Jack Nicklaus at the PGA champion . . . Jack is pro for an Arizona real estate operation.

During the British Amateur, Miss Vicky Macdonald, fiancée of Michael Lunt, the winner, hauled his clubs around the course on what we call a "bag cart", the New Zealanders call a "trundler" and the British call a "trolley" . . . Lunt beat four Americans, the 1962 British Amateur champion, Richard Davis, Billy Nicks, D. Edgar, Updegraff and Chris Blocker . . . Tom Scott, British Golf Illustrated editor, forecasts that when Blocker gets out of the army and turns pro, he will develop into one of the U. S. stars . . . ### The Case of Mr. Wilson Is Straightened Out

D. D. Wilson, the Baton Rouge golfer who hit two balls out of bounds and then holed out his third tee shot on a 308-yard hole (Golfdom, July, page 79), should have written a five on his scorecard, according to the USGA.

It appears, says the USGA, that Wilson didn't state that the second and third balls played from the tee were provisional balls (Rule 30). It must be presumed he proceeded under Rule 29-1. Thus, the third ball ultimately was the ball in play and he should have been credited with a five.

If Wilson had stated the second and third drives were provisional, according to the USGA, he would have been justified in playing out the hole with the first ball and counting the score made with it.

Iowa GCSA's first distinguished service award was recently presented to Kenneth Delaney (1), supt. of Twin Pines Muni, Cedar Rapids, by Ed Cott, extension turf specialist at Iowa State University. In the background are Bob Higgins, Herb Klontz, Marsh DeMartelaere, Ron Helming, Dave McLaund and Don Gardner. Delaney was cited for his work in directing construction of the muni course and for cooperating with Iowa State and the USGA green section in building a practice green to USGA specs.

Southwestern pros are screaming about the page ad in PGA championship program in which cut-price clubs on easy terms were advertised by a gigantic chain of stores . . . cludes too many good golfers . . . Gleason is a serious golfer . . . At the Open at Brookline, Francis Ouimet and Walter Hagen were talking about their last rounds at the Country Club course in the National Open of 1913 . . . Ouimet struggled in playing the out nine in 43 . . . Hagen started with a bogey and two pars, then got a two on the 425-yard fourth, almost holed a brassie for another deuce at the fifth and got a birdie 3, got another birdie 3 on the sixth by holing a two-foot putt . . . The Haig was four feet away from the hole on the short seventh but only rimmed the cup . . . He three-putted the par 4 eighth and par 5 ninth to take bogeys . . . Walter finished at 307, three strokes back of Ouimet, Vardon and Ray and tied with Jim Barnes, Mac Smith and Louis Tellier . . . Amazing how veterans can remember detail of holes they played many years ago.

Harry J. Fawcett retiring as manager of Kansas City Club where he had been for 19 years . . . C. E. Mills, now manager, Hardscrabble CC, Fort Smith, Ark., will succeed him . . . Fawcett, 1941 president of the Club Managers' Assn. of America and author of "The Management of Clubs", has been prominent for many years as manager of golf and city clubs and resort hotels in the Midwest . . . He was one of the first club managers brought up in the fine food service tradition to recognize the trend accenting the importance of a club manager's executive capabilities.

Fred O. Gregory now manager of Stockdale CC, Bakersfield, Calif. . . . Mack Kuller recently made manager of Roswell (N.M.) CC . . . Thomas F. Farley, formerly manager of Winged Foot CC and Baltimore CC, now president and general manager of Equinox House, Manchester, Vt. . . . Clem Reynold who was Manager of Augusta (Ga.) National GC, is Farley's assistant . . . Karl Muske now manager, Emmetsburg (Ia.) CC . . . Peter J. Hucko signed as manager of Redlands (Calif.) G & Tennis Club.

Lower Cascades' third 18 at the Homestead, Virginia Hot Springs, Va. recently opened . . . Robert Trent Jones designed it . . . Bunny Plummer, for many years pro at Galveston (Tex.) munny course is retiring . . . Freddie McLeod, pro at Columbia CC, Chevy Chase, and a chipper 81-year-young golfer, took a day away from his visit to the National Open at CC of Brookline to play 18 at Myopia Hunt & CC, South Hamilton, Mass., where he won the National Open 55 years ago . . . Myopia gave him an anniversary party.

Westchester County, N.Y., dept. of parks pros, Andy Macko of Dunwoodie, Johnny Paoness of Mohansic and Johnny Marotta of Maple Moor, giving free summer lessons in golf and golf etiquette to county's youngsters in 10 through 14 age bracket . . . Harris County (Houston) Tex., advertising for proposals from men interested in operating the county's new Melrose Park 18.

Charles Benson now pro at newly opened White Lake CC nine at Elizabethtown, N.C. . . . Cumberland (Md.) Knights of Columbus Council 586, considering building nine as part of recreation development . . . A New York state club described in newspapers as "a swank golf and country club" was denied $800,000 loan requested of Farmers' Home Administration because FHA loans are for farmers and other rural residents to shift land from farm to recreational use.

Because of slow spring growth, Paul Erath may not open his semi-private nine, Saranac CC near Stahlstown, Pa., until next year . . . Paul will continue as pro-supt. of Laurel Valley CC, Ligonier, Pa., the de luxe course he helped build . . . Erath will get himself a pro-manager for Saranac which he is making a model of sound construction . . . He insists he won't open the course until it is ready . . . Very few courses we have seen in our many years in golf business actually have been completed before they were opened.

North Hills CC, Little Rock, Ark., completing $360,000 clubhouse, replacing one burned two years ago . . . Ken Johnson now pro-supt.-mgr., Colville (Wash.) Elks CC . . . Building 18 for Falmouth CC, East Falmouth, Mass.

Alex Baxter, 71, pro at Lauderdale Lakes CC for several years after moving from Ft. Mitchell (Ky.) CC to Fort
