

Already a "must" for outdoor sports, GOLF PAL styles a spray insect repellent to tickle the buying impulses of the golfer. The clever plastic golf ball cap does it! Handy 4-oz. size, convenient to carry. Longest-lasting protection against most every insect except the "golf bug." List—$1.25 per can. Cost to pro — 75c per can. Comes 6 in handsome display carton, two cartons and 12 cans to a box @ only $9.00. Expands pro's market for home use. And the 6-pack is the newest gift for the golfer. To be sold exclusively through pro shops. Orders to us will be filled from your nearest distributor. Send check for $9.00 to cash in on the "buggy" days ahead.

THE VERKAMP CORPORATION
Cincinnati 37, Ohio • Since 1914

At Deauville, which has 45 holes, Ralph is professional to about 1,500 members.

He is married, has a 25-year old son and one granddaughter.

Playing ability is the criteria for electing a golfer to the PGA Hall of Fame. To be elected, the nominee has to be retired from active national competition and be at least 50 years old.

• • • • •

Shortly after Guldahl was elected to the Hall of Fame, the PGA announced that Johnny Revolta had been selected as the 33rd member of the fraternity. Revolta has been the head pro at Evanston (Ill.)

CC for more than a quarter century.

A native of St. Louis, Johnny won his first golf title, the Wisconsin Cad-die championship, at the age of 14. He turned professional at the age of 18 in 1929. In the next few years, Revolta didn't push many people out of the headlines, but in 1935 he blossomed, winning the PGA Championship and the Western Open. He was the year's leading money winner and before the season was over, claimed the Wisconsin Open.

In 1936, Johnny won the Sarasota and Thomasville Opens and the International Four-Ball. He repeated in the Four-Ball the following year, also captured the Miami-Biltmore Open and was No. 6 in the money standings for the season. His outstanding play during these years won him berths on both the 1935 and 1937 Ryder Cup teams. Revolta won 27 tournaments during his career along with numerous Wisconsin and Illinois championships.

The Evanston professional's fame as a player possibly has been overshadowed by his accomplishments as a teacher. Known as the "doctor of the pros" he is constantly consulted by circuit stars, both men and women, who seek aid for ailing swings.

Revolta is married and has a son and daughter.

100 Teams in Bermuda Pro-Am

More than 100 teams have accepted invitations to play in the Goodwill Pro-Am, to be played in Hamilton, Bermuda, Dec. 3-6. The U.S. will send teams from 16 states. Following the pro-am, pros will meet in a one-day championship event.