Rain-O-Mat Issues New Price & Data Lists

Fact sheets containing complete details on lawn and turf spray units manufactured by Rain-O-Mat, 11701 E. Washington Blvd., Whittier, Calif., were recently released. Information on each unit is clear and concise to make ordering as simple as possible. The lists include Rain-O-Mat sprinklers to meet the most stringent lawn specifications.

Mallinckrodt Offers Cure for Bermuda Spring Dead-Spot

Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, St. Louis, which has been working for several years to develop a chemical that controls spring dead-spot in Bermudagrass, says that it has found the answer in Spring-Bak. It suggests that application be started in the fall and made regularly thereafter. Dead-spot, described last February by Stan Frederiksen, manager of distributor products, at the GCSA convention, has baffled agronomists for many years. The fungus which causes it goes to work six months or so before the onset of the disease and that is why fall treatment is recommended. Spring-Bak controls the fungus, giving the Bermuda a chance to develop a healthy root system.

Certain-Teed Develops Pipe-Positioning Band

After extensive field-testing, Certain-Teed Products Corp., Ambler, Pa., has introduced an automatic pipe-positioning band to each length of Certain-Teed asbestos-cement pressure pipe. The device is said to make pipe assembly fast, easy and completely secure. Positive separation of pipe ends to allow space for expansion and contraction as well as deflection is guaranteed. Leak-proof connections are assured and connection of Certain-Teed pipe with other brands of asbestos-cement pipe is simplified.

Moist Hand Problem Solved by Dri-Grip

A comfortable, natural grip without any stickiness or drying of the skin is said to result from rubbing a few drops of Dri-Grip over both hands. Manufactured by Cosom Corp., 6030 Waysata Blvd., Minneapolis, Minn. 55416, Dri-Grip will keep hands dry and natural for two hours or more. A pocket-size plastic squeeze bottle makes Dri-Grip convenient to carry.

Betasan® Recommended For Fine Turf Care

Stauffer Chemical Co., 380 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017, recommend late summer applications of Betasan pre-emergence herbicide to prevent poa annua, crabgrass and goosegrass. With these over-wintering pests stopped, desirable perennial grasses can spread and maintain a good cover throughout the fall playing season and into the spring, according to Stauffer. Applications exceeding twice the recommended rate are said to have been applied to bentgrass, fescues, bluegrasses and other turf grasses without injury. Betasan is available in granular or liquid form.
