Swinging Around Golf

Bob Stevens, who assisted pro Jim Milward at North Hills CC in Menomonee, Wis. last season, has been appointed head pro at Green Bay's Shorewood Club . . . Indian Lakes Estates in Du Page county, west of Chicago, is a subdivision of 400 half-acre homesites that will surround two 18-hole golf courses. The courses are expected to be completed this spring and a clubhouse is being constructed . . . A pitch-and-putt 9-hole course for older people will be constructed next to the regular course in Watsonville, Calif. that's now being built.

Roy "Rusty" Hauschild has been named supt. of the Wheaton (Minn.) GC . . . Last year saw $20,000 worth of remodeling at Greensburg (Ind.) CC to give extra space to the clubhouse . . . Club also rebuilt several tees and constructed a cart-storage house . . . Howard D. Hungerford, member of the board of directors, is course supt. and supervised course improvements . . . With the opening of the season, golfers should be able to play on the newly constructed Riverside GC (St. Charles, Mich.) as a result of a Small Business Administration $85,000 loan . . . Shreveport, La.'s newest course, the 18-hole River Haven GC, will be located 4½ miles from the downtown area.

July is the target date for the opening of the 18-hole Randall Oaks course in Dundee (Ill.) . . . A clubhouse is under construction and remodeling of two existing barns to serve as a maintenance shop and garage has been substantially completed . . . April 1st is the scheduled completion date for the $280,000 renovation program at Oswego Lake CC clubhouse, Lake Oswego, Ore. . . The board of park commissioners of Bridgeport, Conn. has approved $35,000 for an irrigation system for nine holes of the 36-hole Fairchild Wheeler municipal course . . . New system is to be fully automatic . . . Marco Marinello owner of Wyckoff Park G & CC (near Holyoke, Mass.) has been supervising work on new fairways, greens, tees and a new clubhouse as a result of 23 acres being chopped from the present layout by Interstate Highway 91 . . . Lebanon, Ohio promoter, Michael Lampl, plans to develop a recreational complex including a golf course near the Little Miami River close to historic Ft. Ancient.

Chick Adams is building the 18-hole course at Portage Yacht & CC Biloxi, Miss. . . . Construction began in January . . . The 40-year-old Elwood (Ind.) CC clubhouse building burned last December. Damage was estimated at $300,000. Charles (Hunk) Almony, pro, escaped with his wife Jean and their two youngsters from an upstairs apartment in the club. The Almonys lost all of their personal possessions on the eve of their move to a new club in Indianapolis . . . An $80,000 check from the FHA got construction started on a 9-hole golf course and other facilities near Central City, Neb. by the Valley View Recreational Assn. The loan balance of $100,000 will be paid April 1.

Joe M. Patton is new pro-manager of the Oxford (Miss.) CC . . . Art Alves, for three years assistant pro to Bob Shave Sr. at Manakiki GC, Willoughby, O., succeeds Bob, who has retired and is living in St. Petersburg, Fla. . . . Alves is the son of the late Grange Alves, a widely known pro-supt. . . . Grundy Center, Ia. is the site of preliminary construction on the Town and Country GC's nine to open this spring . . . Van Buskirk Co., Sioux City, has been retained to build the course.

Tom Leathers, owner and architect, has announced plans for an 18-hole course near Akeley, Penn. which will be opened this fall . . . Rockledge G & CC, near Cocoa, Fla., is undergoing extensive improvements under the direction of its owner, Cal Kovens . . . Delavan, Wis. city council has approved $49,332 for improvements of the city golf course . . . Improvements will include a building to expand lockerrooms, pro shop, and eating facilities plus increased golf cart storage space . . . Construction of nine holes on land owned by Mrs. Charles Mangold and Harold Mangold will begin this spring near Mason City, Ill. . . . The course will be called Pinecrest.

Edmund Ault, Silver Spring, Md. course architect, has been hired to build the 18-hole county course on former Bong Air Ever notice how many men golfers own from five to 15 putters and how few women golfers own more than one? . . . Men are better putters than women . . . Maybe pros have missed a bet in not suggesting another putter to women who have putting slumps even as you and I.

There were 8,613 requests for amateur invitations to the Bing Crosby pro-am curtain raiser of Bing's great annual Clambake . . . Only a guy with Crosby's top rating as a gentleman sportsman could stand a strain like that . . . Even the fellows who can't get into the field still brag of Bing as their buddy . . . Maurie Luxford who screens invitations with Bing rarely has his judgment questioned.

Eddie Miller of the USGA headquarters staff was given a surprise party on his 25th anniversary of service to the USGA and golf . . . A bound collection of letters from many in the game told Eddie of their appreciation of the innumerable things he's done for them and golf in general . . . Eddie is a hard worker who knows the answers . . . In arranging the tribute to Eddie, Joe Dey hailed a valuable teammate in the USGA's east 38th st. tabernacle.

Look for an early end of advertising gimmicks that disregard USGA amateur regulations prohibiting acceptance of prizes of retail value exceeding $200 (except trophies of symbolic value.) . . . General reaction of respectable golfers has been that the advertising contests with awards beyond amateur status limits are not in keeping with other, customary and ethical business practices of the reputable advertisers and agencies who have been violating golf's amateur status code . . . This exploitation of golf has involved many well meaning amateurs in embarrassing situations.

One hotel chain that has violated the amateur status rule of golf's effort to protect the game against damage by hustlers of all sorts, ought to cooperate with the USGA or, to be consistent, fire its house

NEW — LABOR-SAVING

Pebble Catcher

- ★ Eliminates "clean up" with greensmower or sweeper after topdressing.
- ★ Leaves completely smooth putting surface.
- ★ Accomplishes floating out topdressing and does better job of working in material.
- ★ Big labor savings in topdressing operation.
- ★ Allows use of coarse material alleviating compaction.

Attach "Pebble Catcher" to the end of the drag mat to catch all particles which bounce through the mat. All particles too large to be worked in bounce over the sections of the drag mat. By using the "Pebble Catcher" you either drag them off the green or catch them. In many cases, if proper shredding equipment is used, screening of top dressing can be virtually eliminated. Immediately after dragging with the "Pebble Catcher," greens can be mowed without fear of damage to greensmowers.

dicks . . . Distillers, showing ignorance or contempt of golf's amateur code, dirty their business by preserving the old barrel-house owners' policy: get 'em blind drunk at a dime a shot then charge the chumps a quarter for sleeping in the flop-house upstairs.

What we have said about FHA loans for converting some farm land into golf courses being a good deal all around but badly handicapped by a bubbleheaded publicity operation is being too often confirmed by newspaper editorials and letters to newspaper editors . . . One in the Des Moines Register from Bert C. Hanson, Pocahontas, Ia., mentioned that because of a FHA loan to convert an 80-acre farm into a 9-hole golf course, Sec. of Agriculture Freeman said, "The government won't have to battle some 128,000 bushels of corn as a surplus." . . . Hanson added: "Having been born and raised in this area I never have known this 80 acres to be plowed . . . What I want to know is how in hell we are going to save 128,000 bushels of surplus corn by putting a golf course on a bluegrass pasture?" . . . When Golfdom says a word against any government backing of a loan for golf course building you may be sure that the Washington publicity job really has been poor.

STOP BALL MARKS ON GREENS

with this DIVOT FIXER

Let's see what punishment the greens must take. 20,000 rounds of golf means 20,000 shot to each green.

If 10% hit the greens it would mean 2,000 holes per green each year.

Repairing these holes an hour later or next day is useless. The damaged turf must be repaired at once to avoid a hole and brown spot.

Make your own test. Just try to repair an old ball mark. Then a new one.

Our little Divot-fixer tool can help you solve this problem.

Sports commentator Jack Whitaker (l) and golf pro Cary Middlecoff are doing the commentary on the CBS Golf Classic matches broadcast on Saturdays through March 27. The 36-hole final will be carried on the network on April 3-4.

favor of a softer rule for a ball out of bounds." . . . The out-of-bounds ball often costs the golfer the $1.25 for a good ball and he would have been better off if he'd missed the ball completely . . . Haldeman also referred to the controversy about the flagstick rule (34 —3c) with its loss of a hole or two stroke penalty . . . The R&A rule is: "The player incurs no penalty if his ball strikes the flagstick when it is not attended and is in the hole."

We used to think that leaving the flagstick in as a backstop made golf something like croquet but now are not sure as we have seen the present USGA flagstick rule is a time-killing nuisance when you're playing without a caddie and from a golf car . . . R&A based its rule on the fact that so many British golfers have no caddies but roll their bags on bag carts.

Women on pro staffs at clubs several years ago have graduated from the experimental stage . . . As sales and teaching assistants they've made profits for some smart male pros and several young women who have been trained by successful pros have gone into jobs of their own . . . Shirley Spork is one of that group who knows how to handle a pro job in an A-1 way . . . She's at a summer (June-Sept.) job at Sugarbush CC, Warren, Vt. and with Danny Forlani in the winter teaching at Indian Wells CC, Palm Springs, Calif. . . Miss Spork was re-elected chairman, teaching committee of the LPGA which will hold its 6th annual national school for golf instructors at Bowling Green (O.) State University . . . Shirley used to teach there before she went on the LPGA tournament circuit . . . There's a new course on the Bowling Green campus.

Love on Teaching

for both the teacher and the pupil.

Love's next enjoinder is: Please don't try to make the golfer over! After playing the tour for three years and being exposed to just about every conceivable type of swing, Davis, like so many other people who make a study of the game, is convinced that there is no copyrighted way of hitting a golf ball.

A professional who becomes snarled in flailing arms, flying elbows and throws himself completely off center when he swings may hit the ball just as efficiently as a Littler or a Snead, so allowances should be made for the awkward amateur. He is never going to be converted to becoming a graceful swinger because neither he nor the pro will ever find the time to correct all his faults. But this person may have remarkable power, or strong hand action, or some other unusual endowment and his swing should be developed around whichever of these attributes he has.

Parallel Palms

It's hard to manufacture a golf swing, Love declares. The pro who tries to superimpose his swing on the pupil only confuses him and retards his progress. If a teacher is sincerely interested in helping a golfer he works to bring out whatever native ability is there and, thereafter, helps the player to refine it. If Love insists on anything, it is to get the player to hold the club with the palms parallel and the grip securely held by the fingers.

Love has an obsession with club grips. He constantly checks his members to make sure that the grips on their clubs are as near perfectly fitted to their hands as possible. He feels that grips deteriorate from constant use and that a set that may have been right for a player when he bought his clubs isn't necessarily right two years later. "Golfers," says Dave, "should be just as fastidious about the grips of their clubs as they are about their shoe size."

What The Pro Learns

The Charlotte professional doesn't go along with the theory that a home pro's game has to suffer because he is exposed to so many different and, in some cases, inept swings that he sees on the practice tee. A poor effort by a student in coming into the ball, he maintains, should only serve to reaffirm what the teacher is convinced is the correct way of doing it. The same thing applies to all other components of the swing.

As for being just a little bored by having to suffer through a lesson period with a high handicap player, Love will have none of this. "A fellow who shoots 100 plus," he says, "occasionally comes up with a shot that is simply amazing. One of the best wedge shots I have ever seen was hit by one of my members who couldn't break 110. I was lucky enough to catch it and now I try to visualize or recapture how he did it every time I play a wedge."

Enough of the good shots he has seen around the practice range plus those that he has been able to concoct himself have enabled Dave Love to make a respectable showing in competition. He is the current Carolinas Open champion, and won the Carolinas PGA title in 1962. On a more grandiose level, he finished 13th in the 1963 USGA Open and the same year captured 12th in the Cleveland Open. In the 1964 Masters, Love was tied for the lead after the first round. In his eight years as a pro, Dave has qualified for four Opens and two PGA Championships.
