An 18-hp engine for heavy duty has been introduced by Kohler Co., Kohler, Wis. The new engine, Model K482, is the second two-cylinder engine in the Kohler line and is modeled after Kohler's proven 24-HP K662 engine. Its power output is midway between Kohler's top-ranking single-cylinder engine, the 12-HP K301, and the two-cylinder K662 engine. The K482 develops its rated horsepower at 3600 RPM. Of cast iron construction and large bore, short stroke design, the K482 has a piston displacement of 48 cubic inches, weighs 198 pounds, and stands 21½ inches high. It has the same general appearance as the K662, the same opposed cylinder design, and the same capacity for hard work. Kohler Co. manufactures air-cooled, cast-iron engines from 4-HP to 24-HP.

An electrolytic stencil marking kit which permanently marks metal surfaces produces the mark in the metal surface through a stencil by an electrochemical action similar to electroplating; however, it is entirely harmless to skin and clothing, the company claims. The kit contains a low-voltage 2-ampere output power unit which can be plugged into any 110 volt outlet. Also included is a hand marker connected to the power unit, a 1-ounce bottle of marking solution and a package of paper-back stencils. Kits cost $8.95. For further information write to E. A.
