People in the News

Robert Lysaght, whose 47 years in golf have extended from caddying at Dayton Country Club through his most recent assignment as manager of the custom clubs and repair department of the MacGregor golf club factory in Cincinnati, has been named vice president-custom golf of MacGregor/Brunswick.

In making the announcement, Joseph W. Kelly, president of the Brunswick Corp. division, emphasized that Lysaght would serve in a broad advisory capacity for many facets of MacGregor/Brunswick golf, in order to utilize the vast experience he has gained in more than 40 years with the company.

"One item which we are deeply indebted to Bob for, and which has not been generally known," said vice president, Robert Rickey, "is his invaluable
