Book Review

Better Golf After Fifty, by Gene Sarazen, with Roger P. Ganem. Published by Harper & Row, Inc., 49 E. 33rd St., New York, N.Y. 10016. Price $4.95.

Who is better qualified than Gene Sarazen, the world's foremost senior golfer, to instruct our senior golfers on how to maintain their game? This book, which is long-needed, is filled with helpful pointers on how and when to hit the woods and irons, how to make the putter pay off, effective ways of getting out of trouble and a whole lot more. More than 60 photographs help the reader to follow Gene's advice. He also tells you how to maintain your strength and use different exercises to get ready for golf. Gene Sarazen has won almost every major golf title in golf and is regarded as the world ambassador of golf.

a large portion of their golf shopping money for those occasions when they visit other clubs.

With the exception of golf balls, it was indicated that women golfers buy at least 80 per cent of their playing equipment from the pros. About one-fourth of those interviewed said they use only cheaper than pro-line balls, and seven others said they buy a combination of pro-line brands and cheaper balls.

Perhaps some of the reasons for this become more obvious when the women do a little swinging on their own:

"Much of the sportswear is too large and matronly for the small woman. You run into this anywhere you go — pro shops or downtown stores. Perhaps manufacturers should take another look at the statistics. If they did they'd make more clothing for the small woman."

"I'd like to see someone design an
