A DEFINITION

A member of the American Society of Golf Course Architects is one who by virtue of his knowledge of the game, training, experience, vision and inherent ability, is in all ways qualified to design and prepare specifications for a course of functional and aesthetic perfection.

He is further qualified to execute and oversee the implementation on the ground of his plans and specifications to create an enjoyable layout that challenges golfers of all abilities and exemplifies the highest standards and traditions of golf.

He will counsel in all phases of the work to protect the best interests of his client. Each member of the American Society of Golf Course Architects is engaged full-time in Golf Course Architecture, and his qualifications have satisfied the Board of Governors in all respects.
