LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Homework before play

We would like to express our appreciation to GOLFDOM and Mr. Claussen for the fine article, "Planning a New Course? Cut Out the Guesswork," in the August, 1969, issue. We feel the need for proper research before design and construction is a must!

European golf

I have just re-read your article about golf tours in the September, 1969, issue of GOLFDOM. I'm happy to read that Americans are finally taking advantage of the golf available in Europe.

I have been in the golf business in Europe for the past 10 years and I know that Europe offers some of the best golf in the world. I have visited almost every one of the 600-plus courses here and some of them are fantastic.

Please let me know if there is anything I can do to promote or assist you or any of the tour directors in any way. I normally drive about 60,000 miles each year, so I know a little about some of the courses off the main road.
