Special Budgeting and Planning Issue

- 42 Second-guessing the Economy .....Joe Doan
The uncertain state of the economy is going to make budgeting twice as tough this year. Using the Chicago area clubs as its point of reference, GOLFDOM reports on present and future sales and cost trends that should be weighed carefully before submitting budgets
- 47 Move Your Budget into the Seventies .....Joseph M. Duich
Rising costs, labor problems and technical advances in turfgrass maintenance have made many superintendents' budget formats outdated. The time has come for re-evaluating old formats and bringing budgets into line with current trends
- 52 Everyday a Sale Day .....Vincent J. Pastena
"Support your pro" is more than a slogan at Mill River CC. Under a unique price plan devised by professional Ray Montgomery, sales are booming and members are saving
- 56 Does Your Course Need a Face-lift?
Along with the cost of remodeling, members and officials fear the inconveniences and loss of business during construction. The author suggests an approach to renovation that will ease the bite on funds and keep operations on a near-normal level
- 60 The Snowmobile: Finding a Course of Less Resistance .....Gerry Finn
Winter profits and the passage of time have mellowed some strongly negative opinions about snowmobiles. Some clubs have even made physical adjustments to accommodate snowmobile traffic. Others, however, remain unyielding
- 64 If Fire Hits, Save the Season .....John E. Straub
When fire destroyed the clubhouse at Dellwood CC, the management kept its peak season business from going up in smoke along with its clubhouse
- 68 Start Thinking Winter .....William Smart
What the superintendent does this fall will greatly determine what condition the course will be in next season
