

Golfdom

OCTOBER 2001 • VOLUME 57 • NO. 10

dot.dud?

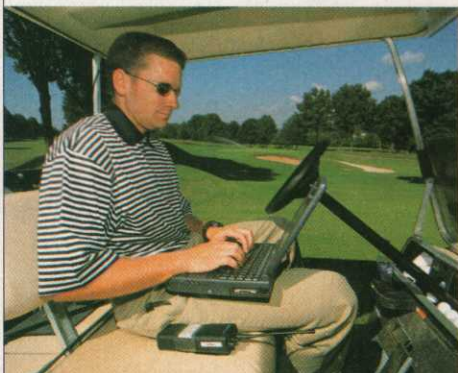

TECHNOLOGY UPDATE

30

A Glimpse Into the Future

Superintendents expect computer-driven mowers and the global positioning system to be at the forefront of the next generation of technological advances.

By Frank H. Andorka Jr.

WADE PAYNE

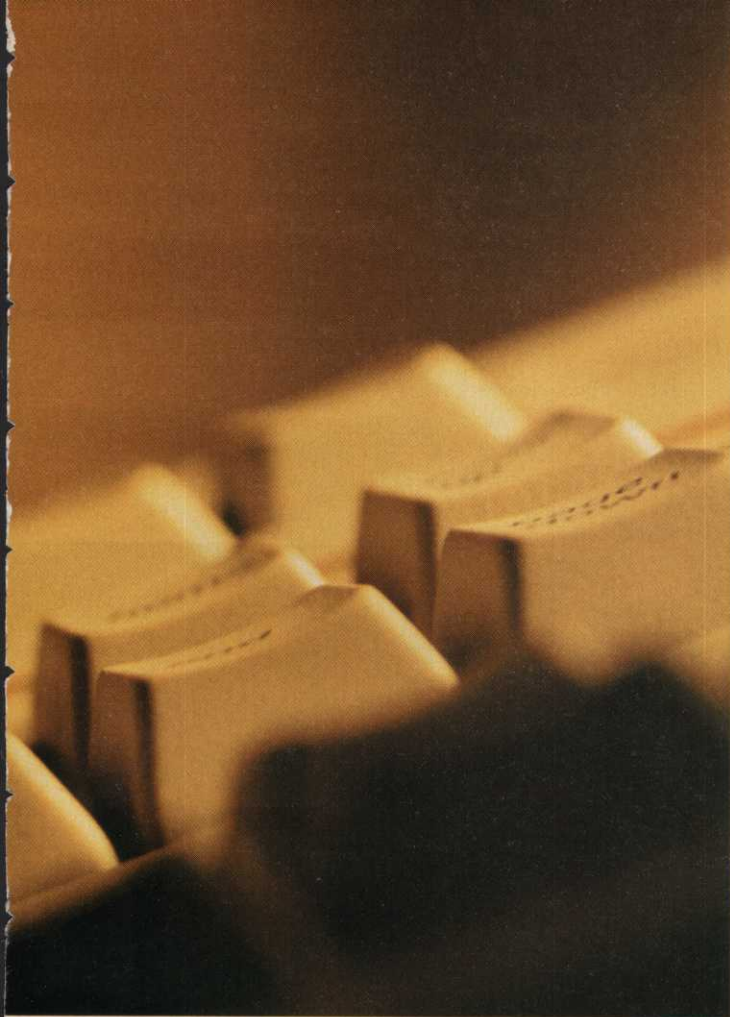

35

Cruising the Web at Warp Speed

Internet service providers and hardware manufacturers provide high-speed connections so you can surf more swiftly.

By Joe Dysart

PHOTODISC

columns

- 10 Flagstick
Am I Obsessed
With the GCSAA?
- 12 Pin High
Users Pulled
the Plug on Dot-coms
- 23 Shades of Green
Why We Don't Use Computers
- 42 Designs On Golf
Terrible Taste
Or Wonderful Irony?
- 56 Talking Tech
Time to Attack
My 'To-Do' List
- 60 Out of Bounds
Baseball Cards

cover story

BY LARRY AYLWARD

It's anybody's guess whether e-commerce has a future in the golf course maintenance industry.

24

About the cover

Cleveland illustrator Dan Beedy enhanced this image from PhotoDisc.

real-life solutions

- 48 Neighbors From Hell
The elk are welcome at Banff Springs GC, but they tear up turf and smash flagsticks to smithereens. However, superintendent Kevin Pattison has learned to live with his unruly companions.
- 50 Betting on Bent
Presidio GC superintendent Kevin Hutchins opted to resod his greens with bentgrass – in a poa annua region – to combat nematodes.

departments

- 6 Going Postal
- 14 Off the Fringe
- 20 Hole of the Month
- 46 Money Shot
- 54 Tips: Winter Prep
- 58 Classifieds

38

Vegas Ain't Got Nothing on Golf

Themed courses have made their mark — for better or worse.

By Geoff Shackelford

44

Brotherly Love

Clem and Bruce Wolfrom designed, built, operate and cherish White Pine National GC.

By Larry Aylward

