

Golfdom

DECEMBER 2007 • VOLUME 63 • NO. 12

The people and events that helped shaped 2007.

22

Year In Review

columns

Doris Evans

- 6 Pin High
Growing Character
And the Game
- 18 Shades of Green
Budget Woes Force Clubs to Prioritize
- 20 Designs On Golf
All I Want for Christmas Is ...
- 52 Turf M.D.
Winter Provides a Fine Time to Train
- 56 Out of Bounds
'Dangerous' Book

departments

News with a hook

- 10 In the Line of Fire
- 12 Jake Pledges Six Sigma

46 Look, Up in the Sky ...

... it's a live oak tree!
Daniel Island Club goes to great lengths to preserve wondrous trees.
By Larry Aylward

About the cover:
It's a tap-in! Art Director Kristen Morabito finessed this great shot by Index Open.

22 Standing Out

'People of the Year'
recognized for integrity.
By Larry Aylward

32 What Happened?

A look back on the notable occurrences of 2007.
By Geoff Shackelford

GIS Show Preview

INSIDE: In this special advertising supplement, we ask exhibitor companies what products they'll be showing at the Golf Industry Show in January and why superintendents should visit their booths.

Turfgrass Trends

This month, Golfdom's practical research digest for turf managers discusses dealing with nematodes without fenamiphos (Nemacur).
See pages 39-44.

Online Exclusive

Read this story only at [www.golfdom.com/
onlineexclusive](http://www.golfdom.com/onlineexclusive):

■ Taking Sanctuary in Emerging Attitudes – Golf courses are earning credibility as wildlife refuges.
By David Frabotta