Standard Golf's new Single-Sided Bag Rack works great for bag drop sites or pro-shop locations, the company says.

It features solid-steel construction with a black, powder-coated finish and adjustable feet for leveling. It also offers players a convenient drop area for their golf bags while maintaining the clubhouse's professional appearance.

Standard Golf also offers a new bag stand, which is made of powder-coated steel for extended life, according to the company. It holds full bags or individual clubs and can be stacked easily on top of one another to conserve space.
