Dodson Bird Houses ERECTED ON GOLF COURSES

bring many happy results. They not only decorate and beautify the grounds but attract the native songbirds which combat the destructive insects so detrimental to trees, shrubs, plants, etc. The Martin—the Bluebird—the Flicker—the Chickadee—the tiny little Wren—and others—each has its special mission. One purple Martin will consume on an average of 2,000 mosquitoes a day; so with a colony of these valuable birds at work on your courses your players will be relieved of an annoying pest. Prominent golf courses are erecting bird houses on poles as distance markers—erected in the rough at 100 to 250 yards from the tee so that the length of a drive can be judged. The fall and winter are the best times to erect bird houses. It gives them an opportunity to become weathered and eradicates the human touch so apt to keep the birds from nesting in houses erected in the spring. We make a specialty of creating bird sanctuaries out of country club grounds. The following prominent clubs have complete installations of our bird houses: Olympia Fields, Westchester - Biltmore, Calumet, Onwentsia, and many others. Send us a diagram of your grounds and let us offer you a recommendation.

The first American book on golf course architecture

THE LINKS

By Robert Hunter

Leading golf architects and players throughout the world pronounce this volume a classic that is bound to have a strong influence in bettering the character of golf course design.

It is illustrated with many illuminating plates showing some of the world's famous holes—and some of the common and expensive faults in course design.

Look at "The Links" before you leap into design or remodeling of a course.

Scott Directing |Pros' Co-op. Sales Group

CHICAGO, ILL.—Professional Golfers' Supply Co., with headquarters at 37 South Wabash avenue, has taken over professional golfer sales of the Wilson-Western Sporting Goods Co. in 22 states, comprising the territory from Canada to the gulf and from Pennsylvania to Colorado.

Forty-six professionals are actively and financially interested in the new organization, according to Capt. J. A. Scott who is manager. The executive committee of the Professional Golfers' Supply Co. consists of Phil Gaudin, Skokie Country club; Tom Kennett, Bryn Mawr Country club and James Wilson, Ravisloe Country club. Harry J. Collis is treasurer.

The organization is confining itself entirely to financing of sales work among professionals and upon this operation, rather than on production activities, the basic plan of the new company is founded. It is the idea of the Professional Golfers' Supply Co. to handle models having sales outlets exclusively in the pro field.

Mower Men Save With Bags for Clippings

ORDINARY burlap bags solve successfully the problem of removing the grass clippings cut on the greens by the mowers. It is common practice to dump the contents of the mower hoppers into piles alongside the green to be picked up later by the service truck. If, instead of this, suggests J. M. Heald of the Greenfield (Mass.) Country club, the men who do the mowing are supplied with burlap bags into which the hopper contents can be emptied, time will be saved for the truck and the appearance of the greens will be improved. It is much easier for the truck man to toss a bag into the truck than for him to rake up and remove a loose pile of grass clippings.

Due to lack of space the details of the Beaumont (Tex.) Country club's model survey of course water supply requirements, announced for appearance in the November GOLF-DOM, is omitted.

This feature will appear in an early issue.

GOLF
ARCHITECTURE
IN AMERICA
ITS STRATEGY AND CONSTRUCTION

By George C. Thomas, Jr.

There are 370 pages and 170 illustrations in this remarkable book which presents, for the first time, a complete and valuable analysis of the factors that make a golf course of lasting charm and a sporting test of good golf.

This volume is pronounced by leading golf architects, and other thoughtful students and authorities, the book that should be read by every one having responsibility for golf course design and maintenance.

You'll find in it many pointers that will save your club hundreds of dollars and give you assurance of sound course architecture.

Golf Architecture in America is the "labor of love" of one of the country's noted golf authorities. He wrote it for the betterment of golf, and for that purpose it should be read by every golfer who is concerned with correct course design.

THE SCORE of jobs done Better, Quicker, Cheaper by the rubber-shod, lightly-treading, powerful "Caterpillar" Tractor quickly prove the sound judgment of the greens committee that invests in this equipment. Rain or shine, the "Caterpillar" fears no hazards. It is never "off its game"—in new-course construction, extension work or maintenance.
