Greenkeepers Hosts to Their Chairmen at Pittsburgh

GREENKEEPER'S Club of Western Pennsylvania early in March was host to 21 of the green-chairmen of the district at a dinner and instructive program. W. R. Murphy, prominent Pittsburgh attorney was toastmaster. James A. Smith of London, Ohio, spoke on soils and fertilization. Henry Eby, Allegheny county agent spoke on co-operation between the green-chairmen and their chiefs of staff. Col. John Morley came to bat with a pertinent and pleasing little talk on the value of green-keepers' organizations in promoting fraternal and technical contacts.

Major (Mex.) John Quail delivered a loadful of the information that can do so much good for greenkeepers when it is handed out to their chairmen. John told them what the greenkeepers are doing in the way of intensive study to better results at their courses. The green-chairmen were deeply impressed with the extent to which the greenkeepers were going in their efforts to improve course maintenance and reduce operating costs.

BRITISH OFFER VISITOR CARDS TO U. S. PROS

The P. G. A. of Great Britain, through secretary Percy Perrin, has advised Alex Pirie, president of the P. G. A. of America, that all American pros visiting in England and Scotland around the time of the British Open will be given temporary memberships in the British P. G. A. These "visitors' cards" will entitle the American pros to compete in events abroad that hitherto have been confined to the local pro talent.

Leo Diegel, Horton Smith, Bob Macdonald and other of the American pro sharpshooters who already have made definite plans to compete in the British Open now have a chance to pick up some expense money on the other side.

Fletcher Practice Green Markers add much to the pleasure of putting

Staff is fitted with a plate which catches the ball as it drops in the hole. When staff is lifted ball comes out automatically. Attractively finished in Duco—in sets of nine or eighteen.

"CROWN" TEE MARKER

Attractive, inexpensive and durable.

Easily moved and placed.

Does not mar the tee.

Open sections allow the grass to grow—no bare spots.

Hugs the ground and stays in place.

Finished in Duco—white for men's tees; red for ladies'.
