pressure. The result is a ball which, while having a cover that is practically proof against cuts, at the same time has a distance from 7 to 10 yards less than its softer covered brother.

Here was the problem for science—how to restore the lost pressure and still retain the tough cover. Obviously it was a job that had to be done after the ball had been completed, since the loss of pressure was an inescapable result of the vulcanizing process.

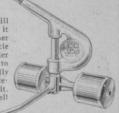

A "shot" in the core did the trick. A hollow steel needle, similar to a fine hypodermic needle, is thrust through the cover, through the rubber thread windings, and into the liquid center. The added quantity of liquid—exactly six one-hundredths of an ounce—is forced in under high pressure. Immediately an initial pressure of 800 pounds is raised to about 1,400 pounds, being what the ball really needs to get maximum distance.

The Last Word in Sprinkler Efficiency

Rain King

Instantly set to turn at speed that is hardly perceptible or at any faste-speed desired. Sturdily built, and will last and perform well for many a year.

Model F

Available Also Without Roller Base

MISFIT CLUB CORRECTION SELLS FOR SCHAVOLITE

Long Island City, N. Y.—A club fitting device invented by Frank Walker, vice-pres. of Schavolite Golf Corp., is proving highly effective in promoting club sales at Schavolite retail outlets. The device has a telescopic shaft and heads that are swiveled so the lie can be accurately measured. It is made in iron and wood models. Length and lie are fitted to the player.

The advertising on use of the device centers around "Pro-Fitted" and stores are going for it strong to catch up with the "in" pros have on proper fitting of clubs. The set of woods and irons sells for $25. Only one store in each territory is sold the "Pro-Fit" device, although there is no restrictions on pro use of the device.

Wm. Curtis, Schavolite president, advises that a questionnaire sent to professionals revealed that a majority of the clubs used by amateurs are misfits. It was on these returns that the Pro-Fit campaign was based. Answering the question as to the Pro-Fitting device in pro shop service having the possible effect of requiring larger stocks of clubs, Curtis cited the work done by Jim Gallagher in the PGA club clinic last year in instructing the pros how to correctly revise lies.

With this information at their command, Curtis says, the pros are in excellent position to precisely follow the recommendations of the Pro-Fit device without increasing their normal stocks of irons, at least.

Walker's demonstrations of club-fitting at stores have been drawing crowds and selling clubs, thus confirming the statement that pros sell the majority of the better grade clubs because they are better qualified to make proper recommendations in fitting the players.

"BOOMERANG" PRACTICE DEVICE AROUSING MUCH INTEREST

Chicago, Ill.-Newest practice device on the market is called "Boomerang," manufactured by the Boomerang Co., Inc., 3953 Cottage Grove Ave., and selling for $5.00 retail Device consists of a golf ball (supplied by Wilson-Western) to which is anchored 25 ft. of extra strong linen cord, which in turn is attached to the center of a 3-ft. length of elastic tubing. At the ends of this tubing are two rust-proof spikes, which are driven in the ground when the device is used.

Reason for the name "Boomerang" lies in the action of the ball when hit with any club. The ball sails out truly and naturally to the limits of the cord, then returns to the player's feet. The direction in which the ball returns indicates whether the shot was a straight ball or had hook or slice. All parts of Boomerang are fully guaranteed.

Promoting Prep Golfers Is Seattle Park Plan

By C. M. LITTLEJOHN

SOWING the seeds of more widespread interest in golf by encouraging crops of high school golfers to play the municipal links under special arrangements, permits the astute park department to turn back substantial profits into the general fund of that city.

As to this rara avis, profit, it might be pointed out with pardonable digression that the Jefferson and Jackson Parks of Seattle, the city's two municipal golf courses, had a combined income in 1933 of $54,880.32, despite the fact that last season was about the worst in golf history from the standpoint of backing the greens with greenbacks. Of this amount, $22,-818.55 was computed "net profit," and turned into the general fund of the city—and was it welcomed by the City Treasurer!

And as to the yearly crops of high school students that add a lively interest

Pro job wanted by successful former pro who has been in manufacturers' sales work for last four years and observed just what pros can do to make their services of greatest value to club. Especially interested in summer job where pro also is expected to be responsible for entire club operation. Highest references. Address: Ad 2506, % Golfdom, Chicago.

Widely known pro, in winter at one of the biggest clubs, wants new summer location; previous summer club in financial distress. Noted instructor, thoroughly dependable, stays on the job. First class business man. Middle aged, bachelor. Will take a chance on very mederate basis with club where there are possibilities for building income. Address: Ad 2607, % Golfdom, Chicago.

to golf in the Puget Sound community, where another green winter was enjoyed due to absence of snow, the park board provides for city wide attention and assured parental participation as follows:

Each of the nine high schools grinding out golfing students in Seattle is allowed twelve playing privilege cards. These are approved by the high school principals and issued to the best bets of each high school. The ranking eight players of the twelve comprises the high school's official team. All of the student players, however, may enjoy their extra curricular school work on the Jefferson Park course without formality of green-fee for a whole month's preliminary practice.

A ten-week tournament season is provided without fees. This year the team matches open March 17th, with teams of eight playing every Saturday morning in a series of 18-hole matches, three points to a match.

G. H. LASH, Canadian National Railway's press agent, wins the title as high priest of golf yarns from his competitor, Kellie of Canadian Pacific. Latest Lash tid-bits:

A bear gobbled up the ball of Col. Nagle at Jasper Park. Nagle sent for rule-book to learn what to do with the bear, but the beast walked out-of-bounds!

Bruce Boreham, sliced from the tee on the 400-yard third at Minaki (Ont.) Lodge course, hit an oncoming locomotive, and his ball rebounded within 10 feet of the pin. Guess what road owned the locomotive!
