ANOTHER FORWARD STEP IN THE SCIENCE OF BUILDING DENSE, HEALTHY TURF

THIRTY years ago, The American Agricultural Chemical Company developed the first fertilizer to be specially formulated for putting greens and fairways. Year after year, by constant tests, this famous old "AA" Country Club Fertilizer has been kept abreast of the steadily advancing science of building denser, healthier turf.

Two Timely Advances

Now, as the result of years of research—checked by tests on all kinds of soils, under varying growing conditions—this Company announces another forward step which, in two respects, is as important as the introduction of specially-prepared golf-course fertilizers over a quarter of a century ago.

(1) Instead of relying upon one formula to meet all conditions, we now offer you three Agrico Country Club Fertilizers—each specially formulated to do its own job a lot better than any "man-of-all-work" fertilizer could possibly do. Now, there's a grade of Agrico for Fairways—another for Putting Greens—and still another for ordinary lawns and grasses.

(2) And here is the second significant advance: In addition to just the right amounts of the commonly recognized plant foods—nitrogen, phosphorus and potash—these Agrico Country Club Fertilizers contain extra plant foods—so-called "rare" elements—now needed to maintain healthy, vigorous growth.

"Made-to-Measure"

All three of these "made-to-measure" fertilizers contain carefully selected plant-food materials. For example, the nitrogen sources have just the right balance between organic and inorganic plant foods—to feed the grass without a let-up all season—give it a quick start in early Spring and provide just enough slowly available plant food to carry it safely through the tough going of mid-Summer.

Agrico Country Club Fertilizers are a real step ahead—a sure aid to dense, heavy fairway turf and velvety-smooth putting greens.

Agrico is produced by one of the world's largest fertilizer manufacturers—backed by 75 years of practical experience. While the original Country Club Brand was the first word in golf-course fertilizers 30 years ago—Agrico Country Club formulas are the last word today.

Use Agrico Country Club Fertilizer this year—and see the difference. Sold by A. A. C. offices in the principal cities; and, in N. Y. Metropolitan area by Arthur D. Peterson Company, Inc.—Golf Course and Estate Supplies—420 Lexington Ave., New York.
