DOUBLE ROTARY SPRINKLER

Your Best Defense Against Hot, Dry Weather

Get the extra advantages of a Double Rotary Sprinkler. Two nozzles give greater coverage. One stream hits the wheel and is broken into rain-like drops which are delivered in a rotating line, turning the sprinkler head to cover a large circle. The second stream starts where the first leaves off, adding yards more in every direction. Covers evenly better than a 100-ft. circle under good pressure. Does not wash or pack soil; does not puddle.

HEAVY DUTY
MODEL H
$12.50

*Self-operating. Needs no attention.

Better Built — Positive Action — Wind does not affect rotary motion. Scientifically designed and built of finest materials for longer, trouble-free service. Fully guaranteed. Parts available, if they eventually become worn.

DOUBLE ROTARY SPRINKLER CO.

816 LOCUST ST. Dept. A KANSAS CITY, MO.

The pros split the classes into three groups: beginners, those "pretty fair," and youngsters above the average in playing ability and experience.

To further promote golf in St. Louis many of the district's foremost pros contributed to a series of instruction articles that have been much better in practical and close-up instruction value than much of the dope run in newspaper golf instruction series. The St. Louis pros used the words they use in actual instruction and cited instances to illustrate their points instead of talking the too-general rehash of the instruction literature already printed in books or magazines.

The Post-Dispatch Junior Golf clinic had the enthusiastic endorsement of parents and high school athletic authorities. It's a great stunt for local organizations of pros to suggest to newspapers that are looking for a golf promotion sports section feature.

Says Pro Trend Is Toward Broader Status

A VETERAN member and official of a noted Eastern country club expresses his view of pro prospects. Says he:

"Among the revisions of the managing and operating plan that may be adopted to help the private clubs through the next several years is a distinct change in the usual status of the pro.

"The pro will be a golf manager instead of having his duties generally limited to the sale of whatever lessons and merchandise he can dispose of.

"One of his jobs in that capacity will be studying the attendance of members at the club and discovering, and correcting, if possible, reasons for failure of members to come out and play. He will check up on playing performances of the members, and like any other successful salesman, see that the customer is making good use of the product.

"I imagine that 90% of the golf club members in this country would be pleasantly surprised if the pro at their clubs said to them, 'I've been looking over your handicap card and your scores aren't what they should be. I wish you'd let me look you over hitting some balls. There may be some little thing that's wrong and that we can straighten out quickly. No charge. I just want to make sure you're getting your money's worth out of the club.'" ventilated installation and prolong the life of the machine?

The four principal parts of a centrifugal pump are the housing, impeller, shafting and footvalve. Often the trouble is very simple, but the greatest trouble is caused by airlock, or leak. I remember a Chinese saying: No suckee, no pumpee—which is very true. If we check the suction side of this pump, there is often where the trouble lies. Secondly, the throat, where the impeller travels. Often this is worn, and unless it is closely inspected it will pass unnoticed. This can be easily repaired by drilling some small holes and tapping for cap screws, then insert a piece of Monel of fairly heavy gauge. This will increase the gallons per min. 10 to 25%.

Another place of trouble is the impeller. If it is worn excessively look for sand near the foot valve, as this should be above the sand drawing point. Now for the shafting and packing. It is a wise stunt to pull the packing from your pump the first thing in the fall, after the irrigating season is over. This practice eliminates any corrosion. Then install or overhaul the pumps last in your routine as this preserves the lubricant in the shaft packing, thus preventing excessive heating when first starting. Another point is this: repacking this type pump twice in a season adds greatly to the life of the shaft as any sand particles lodging in the packing causes an emery paper effect on the shaft.

I must not forget to mention the golf clubs' model repair shop. This is at the Denver CC. It is a pleasure to work in a well-lighted and well groomed shop. It takes time to complete the proper arrangement of tools, but there is a lot of satisfaction in knowing they will be where they belong when you want them. This shop, to my knowledge, is the only one in golf-dom equipped with both electric and acetylene welding, wood working machines, and engine lathe and mower conditioning equipment. And it is well lighted.

Paying Bets in Balls Will Boost Shop Sales

WALLIE ROBB of Wilson Sporting Goods Co. is energetically pushing a campaign to have golf bets made and paid "in balls instead of bucks."

Robb points out that this custom already is highly popular in the South and should be spread for the great increase it will mean in pro-shop ball business. He urges pros to push the idea by shop display signs and slips of the "gift certificate" kind, which, if signed by the losing member entitle the winner to get the ball or balls involved in the wagering, at the pro-shop, charged to the loser's account.

Considering the amount of money that changes hands in golf bets over a week end, the "pay in balls instead of bucks" idea Robb is pushing should help pros a lot in competing with other retail and with "buy it wholesale" ball dealers.

WHAT'S NEW

"The best is none too good for my old man"—You believe that—America believes that—Spalding believes that. In fact that's what Spalding had in mind when it designed the special Spalding Fathers' Day gift golf ball package illustrated below. The box is of a combination brown leatherette and contains 6 Spalding top quality 75c golf balls plus a dozen fluorescent tees. The box has a hinged cover and can also be used for jewelry, handkerchiefs, etc.

Horton Mfg. Co., Bristol, Conn., in a recent ad in the New York Times did some very effective "personalized" advertising by listing names of pros, and their clubs, in the New York Metropolitan district who handled the Bristol-Built line of clubs. Pros in L. I., Westchester, Dutchess and Orange counties, N. J. and Conn., 111 of them, were named as Metropolitan district sources for Bristol-Built clubs. The 2-column ad also gave a strong plug for the pro, telling that the surest short-cut to better golf is to follow the pro's guidance.

Peter Dawson, Ltd., Glasgow, Scotland, producers of Peter Dawson blended scotch whiskey, this year is conducting the Peter Dawson National Ringer Golf Tournament—an extension of the basic idea of a regular "selected score" tournament which makes it possible for hundreds of U. S. golf clubs to compete, one with another (each club playing its own course) for a handsome trophy to be known as the Peter Dawson Trophy.

The idea of the competition, which will run for two months, starting July 1 and extending through August 31, is to compile a composite score of the best 18 holes shot during that period by a given club's entire membership, which includes, naturally, women players. The Peter Dawson company supplies each entering club with a scoreboard, size approximately 2' x 3', to be hung in the club foyer, pro-shop or locker-room.

Best scores as they are made for each hole are posted on the scoreboard, so that on August 31, the score posted represents the best individual 18 holes scored throughout the two-month period. It's quite possible that 18 members will each contribute a hole in compiling this composite score.

Any club with a private, permanent membership and an 18-hole course of over 5,850 yards may compete. Scores made by women playing from ladies' tees shall be eligible for posting provided the ladies' tee is not more than 60 yards ahead of the regular tee.

Besides the special Dawson trophy, which will be in perpetual competition, a large replica will annually be awarded for permanent possession to the members of the winning club who helped to

This picture of George L. Clatty was taken in 1932 at his driving range in Mt. Lebanon, (Pittsburgh, Pa., suburb) which was one of the earlier successful ranges. George wasn't too proud to retrieve balls. He's now running a well-patronized range on Bower Hill Road at Pittsburgh.

John Sproul, US golf ball sales mgr., who relays this picture of a pioneer driving range, says that Clatty's still buying US Driving Range balls, same as he did in 1932. Sproul also coyly mentions that US Driving Range balls are the biggest selling practice range brand in the world.

Chicago Eye Shield Co., 2300 Warren Blvd., Chicago, Ill., has developed a spectacle-like device which promises to "keep your eye on the ball" if you do as you're told. Nation-wide advertising and publicity is already pushing sales of the device.

The new glasses for golfers have V-shaped openings in the lenses, near the lower nose in one end and at the outer edge in the other, openings that direct your eyes at the white pill you're about to try to hit. The balance of the lens area is a transparent amber. The formula is simple. If you look through the V-shaped openings you are in proper position for the swat. The ball is white as it should be. If it appears as an amber pellet, your head isn't set right for the swing, and there's no one to blame but yourself if you top the ball or miss it entirely.

The device takes into account the promotion of that "balance-in-motion" so important in golfing. And, besides, it's a good pair of sun glasses in the bargain. Prices and full details may be obtained by writing direct to the company.

Jack Jolly, 872 Broadway, Newark, N. J., sole distributor for Silver King golf balls, announces that M. F. Gilham, 600 Woodrow St., Columbia, S. Car., is now covering the pro trade in S. Car., Ga., Ala., Fla. and Tenn. for Silver King and the Colonel golf ball.

The Martin Dennis Co., 859 Summer Ave., Newark, N. J., announces that as a further service to pros handling Lexol, leather conditioner for bags, shoes, upholstery, etc., it also puts up Lexol with mahogany or black dye added. These special Lexols, which are in addition to the regular neutral Lexol used on golf bags of all colors, accomplish the double purpose of reconditioning the leather and recoloring the russet or black, as the case may be. They are particularly good for older bags which have become badly scuffed.

Another tip from the Martin Dennis company to pros is that an effective and fast way to recondition bags is to hang them on a cord in the pro-shop and spray with Lexol which has been put in the container of an ordinary fly spray gun. According to the company, pros on the Pacific Coast are conditioning bags this way and report excellent results.

THE RULES OF GOLF AT A GLANCE . . . GREENS

WARNING: This chart deals only with match-play rules for the hole. Penalties, usually, if your ball, altered from. If your ball strikes or is dropped by another. Loose impediments prohibited.

THE RULES OF GOLF AT A GLANCE . . . GREENS

WARNING: This chart deals only with match-play rules for the hole. No penalty for hitting unattended put. Loose impediments are. If ball moves after loose impediment has been replaced.

THE RULES OF GOLF AT A GLANCE . . . TEES

GOOD PRACTICE: If ball may be teed away. In match, drive from outside two links. Ball or part of hands within. Ball must be struck from tee. Add.

THE RULES OF GOLF AT A GLANCE . . . SAND TRAPS

Beats within club length. Lift ball nearest hole until further is played, then replace. If original lie is altered, choose nearest similar lie. If ball which has not been lifted is moved by opponent, he loses hole.

You must play from original water in hazards or take one stroke penalty for dropping water in or outside hazard. Obey Rule 27 (1) which says if ball comes from tee, you may teed-up the tee.

Match It may be removed because it does not touch the hazard, but after your ball is in the trap, breach it, touching trap, may not be lifted.

If slope (inclines), move them if movable if not, place ball in nearest similar lie.

Green-covered slopes are not part of a sand trap—only the exposed sand or sand.

Implement may be removed. If ball is moved in so doing, replace.

Ball completely covered with sand. Okay to scrape away sand, but only what you can see top of ball, no more.

You may "worm" just into sand to allow substitute, but don't build a stance by scraping up sand.

If ball moves after taking stance, add one penalty stroke.

Don't touch or remove stones, leaves or natural objects. "Maximise" objects may be lifted.

WARNING: This chart deals only with sandtraps. There are other types of hazards, to which some of the statements here do not apply.

As stand of grass is just a part of a sand trap. The usual "fairway" rules apply.

Shovel to touch sand with club prior to down-swing.

Be careful club does not scrape into sand on the backswing.

Penalty for Violations Unless Otherwise Noted.
Match Play . . . Loss of Hole
Stroke Play . . . Two Strokes

GOOD PRACTICE
Enter and leave trap where bank is lowest.
Detach sand surface as little as possible.
Smooth out your footprints and sand "drains".
Do not permit your caddy to enter the trap.

No penalty for touching leaves, etc., while searching for ball, but no more touching after you find it.

Refrain, etc., may be searched out before stroke, if lie of ball is not improved or movements of sand assisted. Linear pattern sand until they're shut.

You will lose hole if you play opponent's ball unless: (1) he first plays wrong, or (2) you take due to wrong information from opponent or his caddy. If mistake (1) is discovered before opponent plays his next stroke, notify by dropping next as possible to spot where his ball lay, no penalty. If you play outside his ball, no penalty if you tell opponent before he plays his next stroke; thereafter, you lose hole. Stroke play no penalty for playing wrong ball which is holed; two strokes if you hit it after leaving trap. In other case resume play with own ball before next stroke to be discontinued.

Every Member a Rules Expert

Every club wants its members to KNOW the Rules of Golf. It increases pleasure, eliminates arguments, contributes to increased play.

Here are eight charts cleverly arranged to give the answer INSTANTLY to any Rules argument that may develop this season. Rules are grouped into the zone of the course to which they apply—tees, fairways, rough, hazards and greens. The rule applying to ANY situation likely to arise may be found quickly, ILLUSTRATED for easy understanding.

Over 4,000 of these chart sets now posted at clubs throughout the U. S. If your club does not have sets posted in pro-shop, men's locker room, women's locker room, and grill, order today.

Nothing you can hang on your walls will attract more attention or be more valuable to your golfers.
