Golf business organizations and golf clubs are asked by the government's Defense Savings staff to adopt immediately a payroll allotment plan for sale of defense bonds and stamps.

Urgency of the need for war financing and the imminent peril of inflation make the payroll allotment plan one that can best serve the wage-earners desire to pitch in and help in the crisis.

Saving is tough enough normally for the wage earner. Now the incentive of backing up kin in the armed services makes the American wage-earner eager to hold out some of his hard-earned pay and chip it into the collective kitty. If this can be done by bookkeeping, so much the better for the high-hearted guys and girls who are accustomed to the strain of stretching between pay days, regardless of the amount they receive.

And when the storm is over, and we're still earning American wages, instead of functioning as one of Hitler's New Order slaves, we can cash in those defense saving chips to our great joy.

That'll be a consummation devoutly to be wished by the wage-earner whose history generally shows a photo-finish with the sheriff. It will be a cash reward for the sacrifice of skimping now—if you can call it a sacrifice after reading of the lads who died and who are yet to die in Freedom's War!!!

MR. GOLF CLUB OFFICIAL
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA:

The disaster at Pearl Harbor would be mild to what might happen to us if we were to neglect civilian morale and recreation here at home. It has been proved in England, Australia and even in some of the conquered countries that golf is a necessary compliment to the intenseness of war time production efforts. We here know the value of health-giving exercise and how it reflects on industrial output, whether it be of a mental or physical nature.

The golf business expects curtailment of equipment, supplies, etc., but it expects to continue to BUILD CIVILIAN MORALE.

HOTEL SHERMAN, CHICAGO

FEBRUARY 10, 11, 12, 13

Your turf manager will learn many things here to help overcome war-time difficulties—your club and its members will participate in the benefits of this valuable opportunity.

We sincerely hope that you will consider it an important duty to golf and its many advantages to have YOUR GREENKEEPER ATTEND.

(His expenses to this meeting are a legitimate charge against your course budget)
