

WE'RE CARRYING ON— FOR YOU!

YES, we are advertising to the public—but not to sell new Acushnet Golf Balls.

We are telling the multitude of wishful golf players who read The Saturday Evening Post each week that a ball reprocessed by Acushnet is good, as reprocessed balls go.

And we're telling them that now, as always, the Pro shop is the only place to go for anything in the golf line marked "Acushnet." We're telling them in sparkling, powerful, four-color advertisements illustrated by a man who knows golf and golfers.

By doing this, and continuing to do it, we aim to hold a lot of friends for golf, for Acushnet, and for you... friends who are going to be mighty handy to have around, come peace. Acushnet Process Sales Company, New Bedford, Mass.

The Sand Trap Miner is still laying them close to the pin!
Golf balls reprocessed by Acushnet are every bit as good as you'd expect from Acushnet—probably the best you can get until our war job (molded rubber and synthetic goods for the Army and Navy) is complete. As always, Acushnets are sold only through your Pro—and to get them you must turn in your old balls to him.

ACUSHNET

About New Golf Balls—still nothing definite on the synthetic rubber situation—nor do we expect there will be for some time to come. So the main job continues to be dredging up, digging up, retrieving every possible old golf ball to send in for an Acushnet job of rebuilding. This is no time to stop—

THE GOLF WORLD'S NEWS IN BRIEF

By HERB GRAFFIS

PGA championship at Spokane set new last day gallery record with the final round gallery estimated at over 8,000.

At numerous midwestern courses women are doing maintenance work. . . . Despite popular opinion of women automobile drivers greenkeepers say women are careful, competent tractor pilots. . . . Drought in considerable portion of the midwest has been more severe than for many years past. . . . Some violent windstorms have uprooted trees. . . . June beetle grubs have heavily infested some midwestern courses. . . . But trouble with nature is what greenkeepers expect, regardless of any and every precaution.

Hurray for Maurie O'Connor, Branch Brook (N.J.) pro. Maurie won $2,702 in the Pitkin Memorial hospital tournament at Spring Lake (N.J.) G&CC; $1,000 for low gross in a fast field of pros and the rest as his share of the Calcutta with his amateur partners. . . . The Calcutta was $26,175. . . . Success of Esquire magazine's first All-American all-star boys' baseball game at New York was a tip-off to smart pros to promote boys golf tournaments locally. . . . There are not nearly enough of these events to give the youngsters inspiring and educating competition.

Nine holes, designed by William P. Bell, are to be added to Brookside Park, Pasadena, Calif., many course, at cost of $63,821 when "materials and labor are available." . . . Brookside's present 27 holes are being played by 11,500 per month. . . . Park supt. Wm. Nichols says Brookside is unable to handle "hunreds" more each week who want to play. . . . He adds "golf play is bound to increase after the war." . . . The additional nine holes are being financed out of earnings.

START YOUNG IN KANSAS

Mike Oliver, 16 months old, is taking a lesson from former pro Joel Bennett, now at the Army Air Forces hospital at Salina, Kan. Bennett and his protegee are at the Salina. Joel says Mike probably will be ready to enter the National Open about the time he can be sure of getting a strictly new ball.

William J. Morgan, mgr., Doylestown (Pa.) CC for 12 years died recently at his home after a short illness. . . . Charles M. Cooper, 317 Loring av., West Los Angeles, Calif., is new owner of the Southern California G&CC (formerly Midwick). . . . Hiawatha (Kan.) revived its golf club this year at request of members absent in military service. . . . Women were active in re-establishing the club. . . . Water shortage on Cleveland (O.) west side caused discontinuance of Highland Park many course greens watering at orders of Mayor Frank J. Lausche, an ardent golfer. . . . Omaha (Neb.) negroes plan a 9-hole private course.

A British munitions worker revived marathon golf by playing eight rounds one day during the earlier stages of the Normandy invasion. . . . He played on his "off" day. . . . He was "off" in more ways than one. . . . Death of a British golfer at a seaside course occurred when the player, an Army officer on leave, went into a wired-off area to recover his ball and was killed by an explosion. . . . A 76-year old Englishman, who's been golfing for 50 years, recently made his first hole-in-one on a 167 yard hole. . . . Sandy Herd left an estate of 11,452 pounds. . . . Ted Ray left the largest estate of any of the Big Three; Vardon, Ray and Herd. . . Ray's estate was 26,000 pounds.

An ad in Golf Monthly, Edinburgh: "WHISKY FOR GOLF BALLS. Bottle for 4 pre-war; ½ bottle for 2."

Vice pres. Henry A. Wallace visited the Iowa turf garden at Ames, July 28. . . . H. A. Lantz of the Agricultural Experiment station and Clarence Yarn showed the VP what greenkeeping research was accomplishing. . . . Mr. Wallace was highly complimentary to the state scientists and greenkeepers on results of cooperative work in evidence at Ames. . . . Iowa's 10-year-old Donald Westfall, whose father and grandfather are course supts., does a very good job of running the tractor and fairway mowers at Creston GC when he gets a chance to help his daddy. . . . Sod webworm moths have been numerous enough in Iowa during July to call for a warning from H. A. Lantz. . . . He advises lead arsenate at 2 lbs. per 1000 sq. ft. to control sod webworm and cut worms.

Spokane Athletic Round Table hopes to net $30,000 with PGA championship for Fort George Wright and Baxter General hospital rehabilitation work for which the Army provides no funds. . . . Commanding officers of both hospitals signed a letter to Spokane business organizations urging ticket pur-

TIMELY TURF TIPS

Right now clubs should forget fairway fertilization. Milorganite fed courses will not fare too badly without being fertilized for a year or two. After the war, or when fertilizer is more plentiful, fairways can be restored quickly—with Milorganite alone—or by using Milarsenite first to curb weeds and clover.

Greens and tees should not be neglected. They should get enough fertilizer to ward off disease and maintain dense turf. Some Milorganite will be available for this purpose, but if you can't get all you need, please remember that MILORGANITE, too, has gone to war . . . for increasing food production and for building turf on airfields.

THE True Temper Step Down Golf Shaft early in the thirties became the choice of tournament players as well as the thousands of golfers throughout Australia. From 1933 on, until interrupted by the war, every major golfing tournament in Australia, as well as many sectional tournaments were won by a player using True Temper Shafted Clubs. Included in this list were such important events as the Australian Open Championship and the Australian Amateur Championship.

Today True Temper golf shaft facilities are devoted 100% to air corps and tank corps requirements. When the manufacture of golf equipment is resumed, True Temper shafts will equip the clubs used by winning players the world around. The American Fork & Hoe Company, Cleveland 15, Ohio.
