

When the boys come home for good — when manpower, material and equipment problems are solved — when we resume the manufacture of golf balls — we can promise you this — U.S. will show the way when the “go” signal is given.

At present nearly all our facilities are devoted to war products. We are making some new golf balls exclusively for our armed forces — none for civilians.

The experience we are gaining in the development of the new materials will be reflected in the new golf balls which we shall eventually offer the trade.

In the meantime, keep the game going by shipping your used golf balls to U.S. They will be reprocessed and returned to you just as soon as conditions permit.
