

GOLEDOM

An aerial black and white photograph of a golf course. A long, winding line of spectators, mostly in light-colored clothing, follows a path through the course. The landscape features several sand traps, green fairways, and clusters of trees. In the lower-left corner, a large clubhouse building with a complex roofline is visible. The overall scene depicts a major golf tournament.

The Business Journal of Golf
FALL, 1947

ANNUAL PLANNING ISSUE