As for crabgrass, this has sent many greenkeepers to bed at night with a headache. It has been one of my biggest problems and still is. Back in the old days the best method of getting rid of this weed has been by cutting it out. Then you have bad greens from one to two months. The real cause of so much crabgrass has been soil used for topdressing which was saturated with crabgrass seed. What is the use of picking your greens and then come back and put the same weed back on your greens with bad topdressing?

It would be better to use clean sand. That is what I have been doing for the past year and a half. My greens have been better and I have reduced weeds to a small degree. So, be careful what you use for topdressing. I am now using Soilicide crabgrass killer. This has been recommended to me highly. This is used one pint to 50 gals. of water in cool weather and one pint to 75 gals. of water during warm weather; repeated at 5 day intervals during cool weather; 7 to 10 days during warm weather. I am living in hopes that this will take care of crabgrass.

Some greenkeepers think that a good thick vigorous growth of grass on greens will eliminate crabgrass. I will agree as far as tees and fairways are concerned but on greens when you get too much bermuda grass it is hard to give a good putting surface where the ball will not jump. I like my greens a little on the thin side and then you eliminate a lot of runners and stems. When a bermuda green is too thick and heavy there is too much of a cushion and that calls for a lot of topdressing.

Woodruff Exhibits Show Results of Proper Seeding and Maintenance

Over 180 different areas, seeded and maintained under various growing conditions, were exhibited to a record group of more than 200 superintendents, club managers and industry representatives at the Annual Trial Ground Exhibition and Outing sponsored by the F. H. Woodruff & Sons, Inc., Milford, Conn., at their testing grounds on the Boston Post Road near Milford recently. Exhibits graphically illustrated splendid results that can be obtained from a combination of proper seeding and maintenance with modern agricultural methods.

Explanation of the turf experiments were made by Harold F. Woodruff, president of the company and Dan Johnson, Sales Mgr., Grass Seed Div., as tours were conducted through the lawn trial grounds.

Most favorable comments from greenkeepers and golf club managers came following study of a model putting green which had been planted with various types of bent grasses all receiving the same type of green maintenance. Comparative advantages of the various bents used were pointed out by Johnson. Further comparative study as to adaptability, disease resistance, texture and putting surface together with information gathered from tests in the area and from other trials conducted all over the U.S., Canada, Australia and South Africa, will be used by the company in developing lawn seed mixtures for use by golf courses in different sections of the country.

a line of Louise Suggs' autograph golf clubs.

Miss Suggs' sensational rise to the top ranks of women golfers dates back to her high school days when she first won the notice of O. B. Keeler, of Atlantic Journal fame, who picked her as a coming star.

During this past winter, Miss Suggs won victories in the Florida circuit, including the Bellair Open and the Helen Lee Doherty Championship. This spring she again captured first place in the North and South Championship at Pinehurst, and in May she journeyed to England as a member of the American Curtis Cup Team which defeated the British team, 6½ to 2½. A week later at the Royal Lytham and St. Anne's Club at St. Anne's-on-the-Sea, England, Miss Suggs won the British Women's Amateur Championship to give the United States possession of this prized trophy for the second consecutive year, and to clinch her title as the world's No. 1 amateur woman golfer.

In her new role as Pro-Technical Advisor for women golfers, her dream will come true to devote all her time to the game. As an amateur, Miss Suggs has been restricted in her golfing activities, and in her new position will now be able to further women's interest in amateur and competitive golf. Within a short time, under MacGregor Golf's sponsorship, she will begin a series of exhibitions and clinics at country clubs, schools and colleges throughout the nation.

A Golf Ball For Paul Bunyan

Some of the 'slide-rule boys' at Spalding's recently figured out the answer to this one; if Spalding covered just one great big golf ball each year, instead of hundreds of thousands of the regular size, how big would it be? Well, it would be almost as tall as the Washington Monument and it would be over a quarter of a mile around its circumference. Or, if you like this picture better—it would just fill the Yale Bowl nicely.

Champion's Full-fingered Glove

A new full-fingered "Airway" golf glove, the result of three years research in checking materials and eliminating objectional features of previous models yet meeting the standards desired by golfers, is being marketed by the Champion Mfg. Co., Court Ave., Des Moines 8, Iowa. The new glove gives golfers the desired protection without bulkiness, does not wrinkle, is comfortable in hot weather and has the Champion patented vacuum grip. The glove is made of a special, durable, nylon lastex back that keeps palm and fingers smooth. African Cape-skin is used on the palm, fingers and fingertips for greater wear with a non-binding elastic around the wrist. The "Airway" is the nearest thing to a "skin-tight" fit. Various sizes are available for both men and women. Further information can be obtained by writing Dept. 10 of the Champion Co.

Lesson Practice Mat

Kirkwood Golf Clinic, Box 3821, Kirkwood, Mo., has a cloth practice mat for golf on which reminders of golf instructions are printed. The fabric mat on which the instructions appear is called the U-Kan practice mat.

Combination Fan and Lamp

The Abbeon Supply Co., 58-10 41st Drive, Woodside, N. Y. C., announces production of Fanlamp, a multi-purpose floor lamp that will give indirect lighting combined with air cooling and circulation. The lampshade acts as a funnel. Cool air is brought up from the floor by a 500 cubic

ft. per minute draftless fan, and is mixed with the warmer air in the upper part of the room. Any smoke in the room will be attracted to the funnel, carried upwards and dissipated.

Golf Swing Post for Students

A gadget to help the beginning golf student keep his head steady while developing the proper rhythm and pattern of the swing has been developed by A. C. Plummer, 31 Steuben St., Albany, N.Y. at the instigation of his local professional. The device known as the Golf Swing Post has worked so well for Plummer that the post has been installed at the Albany

Municipal course. The practice aid which has been a great help to beginners consists of a post planted solidly in the ground. Extending from the post at the proper height is a vertical arm to which is attached a curved, padded head rest against which the student places his forehead. According to Jerry Dwyer, Albany professional, the beginner using the swing post is able to maintain proper balance without effort and can concentrate fully on his swing, hip action and proper shifting of weight.

Rotoshear Speeds Grass Trimming
