Table tops are of tempered Masonite, trimmed with an aluminum-magnesium-chromium alloy. NEW "LIQUID STAINLESS STEEL" APPLIED LIKE PAINT

A new product called "Liquid Stainless Steel" developed by the Plastics Div. of The Lockrey Company, College Point, N.Y., makes it possible for anyone to apply a coating of pure stainless steel to any surface, by brushing or spraying, in much the same manner as a coat of paint would be applied.

By a new process, pure stainless steel is broken down into flakes of microscopic size, and the material is incorporated in a liquid plastic with a solvent to bring it to brushing consistency. Stainless steel being a hard and corrosion-proof metal, and the plastic being of the waterproof, chemical-proof and non-inflammable variety, the resulting coat becomes as near the long-looked-for "permanent finish" as modern science is able to produce. It is supplied either in the natural steel color, or in sparkling iridescent metallic shades of gold, maroon, jade or blue.
