AUTOMATIC COLLAPSIBLE GOLF CART AND BAG UNIT

A scientific cart and bag unit which may be folded in a jiffy by the finger-lifting of a simple latch and dropping the cart handle is announced by Chamberlin Metal Products, 1466 West Madison St., Chicago 7, Ill. Opening is accomplished with equal ease by lifting the handle.

Called the Chamberlin Honeycomb Bag Ko-Lap-Si Kart, the cart is equipped with a specially designed golf bag made of Tolex, a leather-like plastic material that is waterproof, almost indestructible, and has the resiliency and beauty of leather. The bag is secured to the cart by upper and lower cadmium plated wide steel bands.

Particular attention is called to the built-in hard rubber club divider which keeps the clubs in the same positions, thus eliminating knocking and rattling. The floor of the bag contains a rubber cushion base for preventing damage to club handles when clubs are dropped into the bag. The bag is also equipped with a roomy zipper shoe pocket on one side, a ball pocket on the other, and a hood which serves as a sweater or luncheon carrier, when not used to cover the clubs. The hood may be quickly swung over the clubs and zipped to a neat fit when desired.

The Chamberlin Honeycomb Bag Ko-Lap-Si Kart folds to a vertical compact package scarcely 11" in diameter, and will stand up wherever placed.
