

The best-looking golf car also has the best warranty.

At Cushman, we build golf cars to be beautiful and dependable. And we back up what we say by paying for all parts and labor for a full year should a new Cushman golf car be defective in any way. We know of no other manufacturer who offers the same warranty. Maybe that's because no other manufacturer builds golf cars the way we do.

We also offer more extra features, at no extra cost to you: Automatic seat brake, premium suspension, lead-coated steel body panels where they're needed for maximum corrosion protection, automotive-type steering, a time-proven electrical system or a greatly improved gas model and lots more, in addition to our award-winning styling.

We've been building top performance into Cushman small vehicles for a quarter of a century. Today we're one of the world's largest manufacturers of small vehicles of all kinds. It's a record we're proud of, and one you can depend on.

So if you're about to make a major investment in a golf car fleet, look at the warranty and the record... and let the promises go.

1974 BUYER'S GUIDE & TRADE DIRECTORY

There has been a need in the golf industry for a directory that brings together, in a single volume, supplier information on the vast array of products necessary to operate a golf club or golf course. The enormity of such a task has often frustrated plans for this necessary tool. With this March issue, GOLFDOM has taken up the challenge.

The information-gathering process for so massive a project obviously must begin many months before actual publication. What you see on the next pages is the culmination of work that began early in 1973. Although GOLFDOM has attempted to be as accurate as possible in the listings, it is likely that some changes, particularly in personnel, may have occurred since the various companies filled out our information forms. We ask our industry readers to notify us of any changes in information.

Although we contacted thousands of companies for information, there may be others that would like to be included in next year's directory. We ask also that officials of these companies notify us of their desire to be listed.

By providing information you can help us to improve and expand our directory each year.

Please send all communications regarding the directory to: GOLFDOM Magazine, Editorial Dept., 380 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

—THE EDITORS

How The Directory Works

GOLFDOM's 1974 Buyer's Guide & Trade Directory has been structured to permit quick and easy use. It consists of four major sections: 1) Buyer's Guide, 2) Supplier Index, 3) Trade and Brand Name Index, and 4) Product Page Index.

The Buyer's Guide has been broken down into three sub-sections, each covering a basic area of golf club or course operations — course maintenance, pro shop and clubhouse. Each product guide contains the product categories pertinent to the particular operation. Under each category is a list of companies handling the product.

The product guides are cross-referenced to the Supplier Index, which lists all suppliers alphabetically by company name. Each entry includes the firm's headquarters address, telephone number, products, and the names and titles of key executives.

The Trade and Brand Name Index is designed to aid someone who may be familiar with a product by its trade, brand or model name, but does not know or recall the manufacturer. The index alphabetically lists each such trade name accompanied by the supplier that makes it. Pertinent information on the supplier then can be found in the Supplier Index.

If a reader is uncertain as to which of the three product guides contains a particular product category, he can turn to the Product Page Index, which lists alphabetically all product categories and the page number in the Buyer's Guide.

In addition to the four major portions, the directory contains information on major golf associations and a list of major reference sources devoted to certain product categories covered.
