Tackiness gives good grip

JoAnne Carner showed her affection for her Tacki-Mac golf club grips after winning the '76 U.S. Women's Open using them. The grips have the look, feel, and traction of a soft leather wrap-on grip, but slip on easily and won't build up grime or moisture during play. Exacta Golf Corp. makes the grips on special injection molding machines from a patented chemical blend of Kraton. Anyone in the pro shop can install them. Tacki-Mac retains its tacky feel for the life of the club.

Budgeting is a Breeze with this Calculator
It's Yours Free . . . on Request

Here's a cost-calculator with which you can instantly compare the actual cost of various grass seeds.

Think on it a moment and you'll agree that cost per pound is only one factor in the cost equation. For a given price per pound you're also buying a given number of potential grass plants.

So, as in the case of Highland Colonial Bentgrass with its 8 million seeds per pound, you are buying a huge potential. Other grasses, which might cost less per pound may also have less potential grass plants so that from a practical standpoint they're more expensive than Highland.

Why not write for our free calculator. You'll find it a handy, fast method of comparing actual costs of planting bluegrass, ryegrass, bentgrass and fescue.

Electronic rodent control

An electronic device can keep rats and mice away from your club foodservice area by emitting an ultrasonic sound at fluctuating frequencies which rodents cannot tolerate. The sound causes physiological changes which make the rodents leave to where they can be exterminated safely, without danger of contamination. Made by Rodo/Gard Ltd., the system can be installed easily by anyone; it creates a perimeter of sound which rodents refuse to enter.
