"Draining greens, traps and fairway trouble spots is critical in maintaining a playable course and healthy turf."

"When plastic tubing is specified we want a brand that's readily available. We figure ADS is our best bet."

"In designing a course, we look at the economics involved and we think plastic tubing is the best drainage value."

Proper drainage provides rapid runoff of rainfall and control of groundwater. It also increases soil capillary action, promotes aeration, nitrification and bacterial action, and increases absorption of fertilizers in solution — helping maintain the balanced soil system vital in growing healthy, hardy turf.

On top of its low material cost, ADS plastic tubing can mean significant labor saving because it's lightweight, faster and easier to install. It won't rot, rust or break during handling and back-filling, and it is unaffected by acid or alkaline soils, or by freezing and thawing. Because of its corrugated flexible construction it never misaligns in unstable soil.

ADS maintains the tubing industry's most extensive manufacturing, sales and distribution network, and is also available at leading building supply and turf equipment dealers throughout the U.S. Whether you need it by the truckload in course construction, or by the coil for a job of maintenance, if you order ADS chances are you'll have your tubing at the jobsite and into the ground...on time.
