President's Message: Through The Green -

It is very important that the Golf Course Superintendent know the rules of the game which is played on the property he manages. You can only achieve this knowledge by constantly studying the USGA Rule Book. The USGA publishes many new decisions on the Rules each year, which may be obtained from Golf House, Far Hills, New Jersey 07931. A Superintendent should know the Rules of Golf well enough to make rulings in tournaments. Lateral water, water hazards, out-of-bounds

What is Golf?

Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a man to enjoy it. It is physical and mental exertion made attractive by the fact that you have to dress for it in a $200,000 clubhouse.

Golf is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging and carpet-beating would be if these three tasks had to be performed on the same hot afternoon in short pants and colored socks by gouty-looking gentlemen who require a different implement for every need.

Golf is the simplest looking game in the world when you decide to take it up, and the toughest after you have been at it ten or twelve years.

It is probably the only known game a man can play as long as a quarter of a century and then discover that it was too deep for him in the first place.

The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as a player can afford. These little balls cost from $1.25 to $2.00, and it is possible to support a family of ten people (all adults) for five months on the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single afternoon.

A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary and put in to make the game harder. A "hole" is a tin cup in the center of a "green". A "green" is a small parcel of grass costing $1.98 a blade and usually located between a brook and a couple of apple trees, or a lot of "unfinished excavation".

The idea is to get the golf ball from a given point into each of the 18 cups in the fewest strokes and the greatest number of words.

and ground under repair should all be clearly marked and/or staked.

We know or have heard that the Superintendent should play golf on his or her course to fully appreciate the conditions of playability. Even if you are not a low handicap player, you will most likely spot something that should be done or changed that you would not have noticed if you were not playing golf. A non-golfing superintendent can roll-a-ball across the putting surface to check for smoothness, speed and trueness. The putter and golf ball should be as important to the Superintendent as the soil probe.
