

PINE HILLS PLAYS HOST FOR OCTOBER MEETING

By Kris Pinkerton

The October meeting of the WGCSA was held at Pine Hills Country Club and hosted by superintendent, Rod Johnson. "Ninety-eight" members and guests showed up on what was to be a gorgeous autumn day. Beautiful fall colors were very evident, but outstanding course conditions took precedence! Rod and his staff should be commended for their fine work, especially this late in the year.

The luncheon speaker featured Dr. Frank Rossi, Assistant Professor at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The main topic of discussion focused on, "How to decide what bentgrass you should use?" Dr. Rossi offered the following insight:

- Superintendents should come out to the O.J. Noer Research Center and take a look at the bentgrass cultivars. Dr. Rossi offered the opportunity for anyone to cut a hole out, to look at root structure, thatch development or whatever they want.
- Obtain your own cultivars of seed from dealers and grow them in a nursery condition. Also consider placement of those bentgrasses in various parts of your golf course to see how they hold up.
- Read information from the National Turfgrass Evaluation Program (NTEP) trials. However, be careful to select information relevant only to your area!
