About Our Cover:

The beautiful cover gracing this issue was created from Jennifer Samerdyke's artistic interpretation of original photomicrographs taken by W.A. Bentley. See Bentley's story in "Jottings From The Golf Course Journal."

Growing up in a place that has winter, you learn to avoid self-pity. Winter is not a personal experience; everybody else is as cold as you, so you shouldn't complain about it too much. You learn this as a kid, coming home crying from the cold, and your Mother looks down and says, "It's only a little frostbite, you're okay." And thus you learn to be okay. What's done is done, get over it. Drink your coffee. It's not the best you'll ever get, but it's good enough.

— Garrison Keillor
