

Poa trivia

By Rob and Steve Wasser

That time of year has finally arrived; take your boots off, put your feet up and relax. After all you earned it. The 2003 golf season is done! No more late nights (at least on the course), no irrigation problems, no crew problems and no dying turf. What a relief 2003 is finished! Again, put your feet up and relax.

This past season saw many different challenges for everyone. For some, the turf didn't want to cooperate with the programs that were used, in other circumstances everything went well. Some had some tough nights, others slept like babies. All in all things went well but golf courses could of been a little more busy. Golf in the state from what I saw in my travels, was like a yo-yo. Some courses had an 'OK' year and others were down a bit. As we turn our attention to the 2004 season, as we prepare our programs, as we repair our equipment, let's hope we can have the weather we need for the most successful season ever.

There is not much happening in the state right now, or at least my e-mail and phone haven't been full of the information that I need to write this article. So this Poa trivia will be much shorter than normal. If you do have any funny stories, sad stories, trivial stories, unique stories, weird stories, ordinary stories, hunting stories, (OK, you get the picture) please let Monroe Miller, Rob or Steve Wasser know and you will be famous for two months. I know we all have other hobbies than golf. It would be fun to write about some of them.

Farewell

It is with sadness in my heart that I say farewell to Adam Moch of Reinders Inc. He has truly helped almost all of us at one time with our irrigation systems. When a problem couldn't be figured out, Adam worked day and night to get it fixed. Adam, you will be missed; God's blessings to you and your family on your new endeavor. Here is Adam's goodbye.

"Effective December 29th 2003 I am leaving Reinders, Inc. I have taken a new position with a Toro Distributor, (Kona Irrigation) in Hawaii.

I will be calling on golf courses in Hawaii and Guam. It has been a wonderful 12-1/2 years working with Reinders, Inc. I have enjoyed working with all the superintendents in Wisconsin and the U.P. of Michigan. Many of my customers became good friends along the way.

I look forward to a new challenge in a new place and hope to make new friends from new customers. Thanks to everyone who ever did business with me.

I appreciate your confidence in Reinders, Inc. and me."

Contest

As you will see from another article in The Grass Roots, David Herr's dog, KJ, needs your help in becoming the dog of the year. Please, if your going down to the golf show make sure you stop at the Lebanon booth and vote for KJ.
