

People vs. Pros Tournament

By Marc Davison, Golf Course Superintendent, Green Bay Country Club

BASF Professional Turf has brought us a tremendous opportunity - the chance to host a 2005 People vs. the Pros qualification tournament. As host, it is GUARANTEED that one of our member superintendents will win a trip to the People vs. the Pros national tournament at Barton Creek to compete for a chance to play Justin Leonard or Ben Crenshaw on ESPN for $100,000. Will it be you?

Both our local stroke-play tournament and the national championship tournament will use handicaps to level the playing field. In fact, last year, John Daly and Gary McCord each lost their match on ESPN to a regular person like you!

This will be a fun event with food, drinks and giveaways. And, it's worth repeating - one person from our chapter WILL win a trip to the People vs. the Pros national tournament to compete for $100,000.

Few chapters have this opportunity. And only invited superintendents like you will be eligible to win. So don't miss this chance of a lifetime. Keep an eye open for your invitation. I am personally happy to be hosting this event at Green Bay Country Club on June 13, 2005. ♣
