ABOUT THE COVER

Grass Roots artist Bev Bergemann has captured the beauty, serenity and tranquility of a Wisconsin golf course and a golf course shop in the winter season.

"Sometimes the snow flutters down and silently alights like immense flocks of birds. At other times it descends as silently, but like the continuous falling of a gray veil shutting one in from all the world lying farther away than his nearest outbuildings. Another comes blown by howling winds in long slants to the earth and whirled and tossed along the fields blurring their surface in a frozen crust."
