

Help nature take its course

Beautiful greens don't just happen, they're the product of the right soil, sun, seed and care. And, while you can't control all the elements of nature you can effect the beauty of your course by your choice of seed.

At Olds, seed research is top priority. We select and sell only the most advanced varieties available. Varieties that are bred to be both beautiful and vigorous. Varieties that show excellent durability under normal and stressed growing conditions. Varieties that will make your course stand out and look spectacular.

At Olds custom blending turfgrass is our forte, it has been for over 100 years. If you're seeding a new golf course or overseeding worn areas, call the experts at Olds. We'll custom blend a seed mixture to meet your specifications.

With Olds Seed you can help nature take its course, and have acres of beautiful, healthy fairways and greens.
